Naval Force In Far East Will Be Cut

Red China Extends Cease Fire, Hopes For Peace Rising

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is expected to begin reducing its naval forces in the Formosa Strait sometime soon, now that Red China has extended its Quemoey cease-fire for two more weeks.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles welcomed the Communist action Sunday as "good news."

Through a White House statement, they promised further efforts to seek a negotiated settlement of the Formosa problem.

Relieve Crisis Ended

The impression in official Washington is that the seven-week-old crisis which took the world to the brink of war has ended. Officials believe that with this new truce extension the Communists have shown they do not intend to resume the heavy bombardment of Quemoey which they began Aug. 23.

If future events confirm this, the United States will almost certainly begin cutting down the power of the re-enforced 7th Fleet in the Formosa area. Washington authorities commented that with the Communists not attacking, the military need for so powerful a force would decline.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy said on Formosa that U. S. forces would not remain in that area indefinitely, but added there were no plans to withdraw them at this time.

The United States would not begin withdrawal "until the position of the Communist Chinese is made clear," he said.

In Washington, Dulles conferred for an hour with Sen. Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island, Democratic chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. Green has publicly criticized the administration's stand in defending the Nationalist-held offshore islands.

Though Dulles and Green did not settle their policy differences, they joined in a warning to the Communists not to be misled by political argument in this country.

Even with the danger of a shooting conflict apparently receding, U. S. officials said they foresee difficult times ahead for this country. Some allies have not been too happy with the U. S. Formosa policy, and may press harder for a change with the return of more peaceful conditions.

Chiang Rejects Idea

The United States may begin soon putting pressure on Nationalist China to start reducing its forces on the Quemoey and Matsu Islands near the Red China coast. But Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa has rejected the whole concept of cutting down his offshore garrison.

Democrats Urge UN Action, Rap GOP On Formosa Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Criticism of Congress. He said this and other issues have been pointed up by the Formosa crisis, the Democratic Advisory Council says the problem should be submitted to the United Nations.

The 24-member council said in a weekend statement that the Eisenhower administration has "led us to the brink of isolation from our allies and to the brink of having to fight a nuclear war inadequately prepared and alone."

GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn took an opposite view, saying "peace with the Republics, or a possible war," is one of the choices the voters face in the Nov. 4 elections for control

Nazi Murder Trial Opens, 11,000 Killed

BONN, Germany (AP)—Two former guards in German concentration camps went on trial today accused of murdering about 11,000 persons.

The prosecution is calling 160 witnesses to tell of the alleged killings in Sachsenhausen concentration camp by Gustav Sorge, 47, and Wilhelm Schubert, 41.

The maximum punishment is life imprisonment. Sorge was a staff sergeant in the Nazi SS (Elite Corps) and Schubert a sergeant.

The prosecution charges they deliberately killed "with utmost cruelty" churchmen, Jews and former members of Parliament imprisoned in Sachsenhausen. They also are accused of being responsible for executing 10,000 Russian prisoners of war.

The two men were returned from Russian captivity as "non-ammunition war criminals" in 1956.

A Soviet military court condemned them to life imprisonment in 1947 on charges of murdering Russian captives.

Rebels Routed By Indo Troops

JAKARTA (AP)—Government troops have captured the important highway town of Muarabunge, in Central Sumatra, from the rebels, the army information chief announced today.

The announcement was the first indication that Muarabunge, on the main highway link between the former rebel-held city of Padang on the west coast, and Palembang, in South Sumatra, had been in the hands of the rebels.

AEC Explodes Fifth A-Device From Balloon

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (UPI)—The Atomic Energy Commission early today exploded the fifth and most powerful nuclear device in its current test series, a 10 kiloton blast dangling from a balloon 1,500 feet over Yucca Flat.

Because of the height and size of the blast it was visible for several hundred miles over the western desert wastelands. Meteorists were halted between nearby Las Vegas and Beatty, Nev., and advised not to look directly at the fireball.

The shot went off at 5:20 a.m., p.s.t. (9:20 a. m. e.d.t.).

The experiment with a force of 10,000 tons of TNT was the half-way point in the AEC's weapons development effort. It originally was scheduled to go Sunday but "technical difficulties" caused a postponement.

The shot, code-named "Lea," was moved up an hour because of an Air Force gunnery contest at Nellis Air Force Base. Its flash in the pre-dawn sky failed to reach the ground but sent a sharp shock wave over observers 10 miles from Ground Zero.

It was clearly visible for a brief second in Los Angeles, 300 miles southwest of the detonation. And it was seen through an early morning overcast in San Francisco, 500 miles northwest of the site.

Burial Of Pontiff Will Be Televised

Great Throng Jams Square, Many Injured

Interment Service Closed To Public, On TV In Europe

By REINHOLD G. ENSZ

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The ponderous doors of St. Peter's Basilica closed just before noon today as the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church got ready for the burial of Pope Pius XII.

As the big doors drew slowly to a close, a crowd estimated at 50,000 still waited outside for a last glimpse of the earthly remains of the pontiff. The few thousand inside filed out the side doors.

The interment services, beginning at 4 p.m.—10 a.m. EST—are closed to the public, but for the first time in history the burial of a pope was to be televised to Italy and Europe.

Rome Traffic Snarled Since dawn, the great square in front of the basilica and, in fact, all Rome have been a tremendous jam of traffic and people. Buses were unable to cover their usual routes, being stalled one after the other in various parts of the city.

Hundreds of thousands of persons in buses, automobiles, scooters, bicycles, and on foot, crammed into St. Peter's Square. Scores were injured in the crush.

At least a thousand police reinforced the Vatican City garrisons to maintain order.

More than two million mourners have passed through the church since Saturday, when the body was placed in state on its high inclined catafalque under the towering dome.

Fifteen of the score or more cardinals now in Rome, wearing the deep purple of their mourning, met Sunday and prepared for the burial rites.

Traditionally, these begin with the blessing of the body by Federico Cardinal Tedeschini, archbishop of St. Peter's.

The reverent climax is the placing of the body in its three coffins—an innermost one of finest cypress lined with red silk, a protective one of lead, and an outer one of stout oak.

As the archpriest intones the service of absolution, three cardinals elevated to their churchly princely positions by Pope Pius, participate in placing the body in the coffins.

Wrapped in Red Silk The body is first wrapped in the red silk drape of the funeral couch and placed in the cypress casket. After its cover is sealed it is placed inside the lead coffin, together with the papal crest, a Latin scroll enumerating Pius' papal achievements and a red velvet satchel containing one of each of all the coins and medals struck (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Polish Primate Plans To Take Part In Ballot

WARSAW (AP)—Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński Sunday hailed the late Pope Pius XII as an unrelenting foe of totalitarianism and champion of human rights.

The cardinal implied he would go to Rome to take part in the election of a new pope, but did not make a definite announcement. His staff has confirmed privately, however, that he will go to Vatican City for assemblage of cardinals.

Cardinal Wyszyński conducted a memorial service for the late Pope before 7,000 persons jammed into St. John's Cathedral. Other hundreds knelt and prayed in the square outside.

The Polish primate is expected to be the only prince of the church from a Communist-ruled country at the Vatican ceremony.

Battle Looms Over Schools In Dixie City

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A handful of Little Rock high school students attend their first day of private classes today while a new battle looms over the city's public schools.

Temporary academies of the Westover Hills Presbyterian Church and the Second Baptist Church announced they will accept about 60 students for a limited curriculum.

But there still was no indication when the Little Rock Private School Corp. would put into effect its plan to open all-white schools for the more than 3,000 students who have been without classes for six weeks.

Rural schools agreed to accept 71 more Little Rock students today but emphasized that no more could be accommodated.

Those schools were not affected by Gov. Orval E. Faubus' order which shut the doors of Little Rock's one Negro and three white high schools.

British Airman Seized In Leaks

LONDON (AP)—The Air Ministry said today a British airman is being held in connection with a suspected leak of rocket secrets.

An announcement named the man as Senior Aircraftman M.J. Brown, formerly stationed at Ed-Edinburgh Field near Britain's rocket testing base at Woomera, Australia.

The Air Ministry did not say to whom secrets were leaked. But a London newspaper, The Daily Mail, reported that investigators had arrested Brown after checking on reports that secrets from Woomera were getting into Soviet hands.

Lunar Probe Device Seen Breaking Up

Valuable Data On Outer Space Sent During Its Flight

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. moon rocket Pioneer has swooped to probable disintegration in the earth's atmosphere after blazing a never-before-traveled path into space.

The instrument-laden vehicle didn't make it to the vicinity of the moon. But the Air Force claimed big gains in scientific information from the nearly two-day flight of the rocket, which reached a record of about 79,120 miles into space.

The Pentagon announced early today that the world's first known moon probe plunged back into the atmosphere at about 11 p. m. Sunday. It was assumed Pioneer then burned up from friction.

No Visual Sighting

Pioneer's final dive was believed to have come at a point over the south Pacific. There were no immediate reports of any visual sightings of the rocket's finish.

The Air Force issued this death notice for the moon missile it launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., before dawn Saturday.

"The Hawaiian tracking station lost contact with the U. S. Pioneer lunar probe vehicle at 11:46 p. m. (EDT)."

"It was the last tracking station . . . to receive signals."

"Analysis of the data received by the Hawaiian station indicates that the Pioneer re-entered the earth's atmosphere at approximately 12 midnight (EDT) and is assumed to have burned up upon re-entry."

"The re-entry point was estimated to be over the south Pacific Ocean. . . ."

The 85-pound lunar probe fell short of the hoped-for goal of going into orbit some 50,000 miles from the moon. But in traveling about a third of the 222,000 miles to the moon, it achieved the deepest penetration yet by a man-made vehicle into the vast universe.

Scientists said it radioed valuable data back to earth on its lonely journey. Among other things, the experience of Pioneer indicated that radiation in the outer reaches of space may not be as intense as had been thought.

This could have strong bearing on future space flight by man, susceptible to possible radiation poisoning.

In this connection, the Air Force claimed Pioneer's epic flight marked the first time man has been able to measure radiation above 25,000 miles.

Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, chief of the Air Force Ballistic Missile Division, said, "These measurements will be of great assistance in improving instruments for future space and lunar probes and for putting man into space."

Schriever, who has over-all responsibility for the Air Force moon rocket program, spoke at Inglewood, Calif., where the Air Force has been digesting worldwide tracking reports on Pioneer.

Official Claims Prohibition To Return In U. S.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—An American authority on alcoholism said today that the majority of Americans may be living under prohibition again by 1963 or 1970.

Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, president of the International Commission for the Prevention of Alcoholism, said that will happen if a present trend toward prohibition in the United States continues unchanged.

He predicted prohibition this time would be voted by state legislatures, rather than by Congress.

Battered Body Of Alcatraz Escapee Discovered In Bay

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The unrecognizable body of tough Alcatraz convict Aaron Walter Burgett was found still wearing a plastic bag-inflated for water wings. He got off Potts Camp, Mo., was found Sunday circling The Rock, from which he escaped Sept. 29.

It was spotted by prison guard Lyndon M. Cropper, bobbing face down in San Francisco Bay 100 yards out.

Warden Paul J. Madigan said he was convinced now that Ralph Coe and Theodore Cole, the only ones of 20 would-be escapees never accounted for, "drowned just as Burgett has. They just can't escape from here."

Burgett, 28, fortified himself with artificial aides for the swim, made identification positive.

AF Plans New Moon Rocket Try

Pioneer Plunges Back Toward Earth After Journey

By GENE HANDSAKER
INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—The Air Force is eager to try again to rocket an instrument package into orbit around the moon.

The boss of the Air Force Ballistic Missile Division said so as 84-pound Pioneer was plunging back to earth from its historic journey 79,120 miles into outer space.

But Pioneer's tiny radio beamed indications that radiation is thickest in a 5,000 to 6,000-band, then tapers off.

Asked when the Air Force will launch the last of its three authorized moon probes—the first blew up on takeoff in August—Gen. Schriever said: "I'm not free to tell you, but I can assure you we're not going to waste any time."

Pioneer, a top-shaped package containing instruments reporting internal temperature, micrometeorite impacts and other data, was hurled into space on a three-stage rocket early last Saturday from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Literally miles of electronic tape information were recorded by tracking stations in England, Hawaii, Singapore and Florida.

Eisenhower Helps GOP In New York

Delivers Talks In Manhattan And Meets With Office Seekers

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower used a visit to New York City Sunday to boost Republican office seekers in their effort to unseat the Harriman administration and to elect a U.S. senator.

It was his first personal appearance to help Republican candidates this fall.

He hobnobbed with New York state GOP candidates while dividing his time between politics and appearances at public ceremonies.

From the moment the President stepped from his plane to his departure about 6½ hours later, Nelson Rockefeller and Rep. Kenneth Keating were not far from his side.

Rockefeller, running for governor, and Keating, GOP senatorial candidate, were the first to greet Eisenhower at LaGuardia Field and they accompanied him on his briskly paced schedule.

During his stay, the President conferred with the Republican state ticket.

Shared a buffet lunch with 37 Republican party officials, workers and wives.

Presided at a wreath-laying ceremony at the monument of Christopher Columbus at Columbus Circle.

Delivered the principal address at a cornerstone laying ceremony for the Interchurch Center.

Eisenhower also discussed the situation in the Formosa Strait by phone with Secretary of State Dulles, sent a message of congratulation to the Air Force on its moon rocket and directed the FBI to aid the investigation into the dynamiting of a Jewish temple in Atlanta, Ga.

Rockefeller later told a news conference he had informed the President, "Things look good; the whole ticket is optimistic."

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower "expressed his pleasure" at the reports on GOP state prospects.

The President, looking hale and ruddy just two days before his 68th birthday, traveled to and from his various appointments in a plastic-domed car. He smiled frequently and waved to the estimated 60,000 persons who lined the street as he passed.

At the church ceremony, Eisenhower departed from his prepared text to denounce angrily the Atlanta bombings. "We must all share in the feeling of horror that anyone would use to desecrate a place of religion," he said.

Russian Says Soviet Still Holding Lead

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet science lecturer says the Soviet Union admires U.S. engineering progress in sending up a moon rocket. He added that the feat in no way detracts from Soviet leadership in the space field.

This was the first Soviet reaction since the moon rocket was launched Saturday. It came Sunday at one of the many public lectures given on weekends in Moscow.

Pravda limited its coverage to a short Tass news agency dispatch from New York saying the rocket had failed to achieve its purpose.

Students Given Vaccine In Hunt To Avert Colds

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — A one-year study of a new anticold vaccine will begin tonight when some 2,600 University of Notre Dame students line up for vaccinations.

About two thirds of the students will receive vaccine containing several different strains of viruses associated with upper respiratory infections. The others will get a sterile solution and act as the control group.

Scientists hope the vaccine will prevent up to 70 per cent of common colds.

'Underground' In Dixie Draws Bombing Blame

By LOWRY BOWMAN

ATLANTA (UPI)—City, state and federal agents, joined by special bomb experts, staged an all-out hunt today for a mysterious "Confederate underground" believed responsible for a wave of dynamite terrorism against Jewish institutions in the south.

The latest bombing in what some officers said followed a definite pattern blasted out a wall of a fashionable Jewish temple on Atlanta's famed Peachtree Road before dawn Sunday. President Eisenhower demanded "a full, first-hand report" from the FBI.

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish leaders over the South expressed "shock and distress."

Shortly after the Atlanta blast, a rabbi in Miami received a "curt and abrupt" anonymous call that a synagogue would be bombed.

Police put all available men on a standby watch at some 30 synagogues in greater Miami. Police in Knoxville, Tenn., also reported they were guarding a Jewish temple against a threatened bombing.

No one was hurt in the explosion here.

Services Not Interrupted

The blast, which police said came from between 30 and 50 sticks of dynamite, punched an 18-foot hole through a wall of the religious school area in the rear of the temple. Rabbi Jacob Rothschild said that although it left the temple without lights or water, services would not be interrupted.

"I confidently expect to have services there because I think it is important that we continue to use the temple for its spiritual purpose, particularly in the light of what has happened."

The explosion brought a swift and outraged reaction from church leaders of all faiths and from some political leaders.

Atlanta Mayor William A. Hartsfield, who immediately offered a $1,000 reward, called it "the payoff for the rabble-rousing in the South. Every political rabble-rouser is the god-father of every sneaking cross burner and dynamiter at work in the South today."

"General" Phones UPI

An anonymous caller who identified himself as "General Gordon of the Confederate underground" telephoned United Press International about the time of the explosion to say "we have just blown up a temple."

Although the FBI said it has been unable to establish the actual existence of such a group, the name has been used several times in the past. Rabbi Rothschild said he personally felt the bombing to be part of an established pattern and group.

The Atlanta blast was the seventh such incident this year in the South. A spokesman for the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith said the organization suspected it to be "part of a master plan directed by a central intelligence which will continue unchecked until a conviction is made."

Loan Planned By Lutherans For Building

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — Delegates to the United Lutheran Church in America convention were asked today to approve an eight million dollar loan to help new congregations get started.

The loan was asked by the church's Board of American Missions, to finance a three-year, $24,350,000 church extension program.

The loan would enable hundreds of new congregations to be started by the board and enable the purchase of church sites, buildings and parsonages.

The board, in its report to the convention, cited two basic reasons for needing the money: rising costs of land and building, and failure of the increase in church contributions to keep pace with expanding work and rising costs.

The board said more than 300 congregations are forced to worship in school rooms, funeral parlors, barrooms, converted chicken coops and similar temporary quarters.

During the last two years the board has organized 141 new congregations in 40 states, Canada and Puerto Rico.

The board warned of the potential disintegration of city churches because of the flight to suburbs. To help combat this trend, the board currently is assisting more than 30 urban congregations.

About one thousand delegates and visitors journeyed to Wittenberg College at Springfield Sunday to see the dramatic presentation by the ULCA board of social missions: "From the Foot of the Cross." Three major components of social missions were set forth: evangelism, inner missions and social action.

altitude mark is more than 27 times greater than any ever before achieved. The Air Force said this permitted the first direct measurements of the earth's magnetic field up to that height.

Further, the Air Force said Pioneer hit the fastest speed ever reached by a man-made vehicle—more than 23,450 miles an hour.

Moscow newspapers published reports from the United States on progress of the Pioneer, but did not go beyond that.

President Eisenhower keynoted Western reaction in saying the probe was a tremendous achievement that will yield knowledge of great benefit to mankind.

Gen. Schriever said that as a result of the moon rocket's two-day flight "I feel that manned space travel is something we can look forward to with greater confidence than before."

He also expressed confidence that an orbit around the moon "can be achieved in the not too distant future."

He told newsmen "We're not going to waste any time" in trying another moon shot.

The Air Force has been authorized to make three lunar probes. Its first effort failed Aug. 17 when the rocket exploded after only 77 seconds in flight. The Pioneer launching was the second try.

After blastoff from Cape Canaveral, the three-stage rocket—a 32-ton monster 88 feet long—thundered to a speed of more than 23,450 miles an hour. This was enough to break clear of the earth's main gravitational pull, but gravity still exerts effects in the distant areas Pioneer reached. As it turned out, that initial push was not enough to reach the objective.

Word that the moon probe had started to fall came toward evening Sunday.

Dr. Louis G. Dunn, president of the Space Technological Laboratories, told a news conference Pioneer had reached its maximum altitude 27 hours after launching.

Brig. Gen. O. J. Rittland, vice commander of the Air Force Ballistic Missile Division, attributed Pioneer's failure to reach its

Youth, 16, Kills Parents, Buries Both Near Home

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Authorities today prepared to file charges against a "high strung" Omaha youth who they said signed a statement admitting he killed his parents in an argument over a car.

William Leslie Arnold, 16, took police to his backyard Saturday and showed them where he had buried the bodies of his parents two weeks ago in a shallow grave in a flower bed.

An autopsy on the decomposed bodies of his father, William, 42, and mother, Opel, 40, showed he had pumped six bullets into each of his parents from a .22 caliber rifle.

Police said the Arnold youth, a student at Omaha's Central High School, admitted shooting his parents on Sept. 27 when his mother forbade him to use one of the family's two cars for a Saturday night date.

Scientist Reports Rocket Stopped---Then Floated

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A top scientist said today that for more than two hours America's lunar probe rocket virtually floated in space when it reached a historic altitude of more than 79,000 miles and slowed to a stop.

Air Force figures bore out the scientist's statement by showing the rocket was at about the same altitude between 4:47 and 6:47 a.m. e.d.t. Sunday. Starting at 79,120 miles, it rose to 79,212 and then fell back to the 79,120-mile level.

Dr. William W. Kellogg, acting chairman of the International Geophysical Year earth satellite panel, explained in an interview this was because the rocket was so far away the pull of the earth's gravity was only one four-hundredths as much as at the surface of the earth.

If a 200-pound man could be placed on a scale at that distance he would "weigh" only half a pound. The 82-pound rocket's "weight" by the same measurement was only slightly more than two-tenths of a pound.

Kellogg said a better way to picture the situation is to consider that the acceleration of gravity, 32 feet per second at the surface of the earth, was only 1/400th as much — or less than an inch per second — at that altitude.

The rocket, with very little speed left, consequently fell over in a great arch before it began to pick up real speed in its descent toward the earth.

Kellogg noted the pull of gravity continues indefinitely into space but just keeps growing less and less. He said at the great altitude reached, the rocket could have been placed in an orbit around the earth if it could have been given a push in almost any direction.

While the choir sings a funeral dirge, the triple coffin is attached to a system of pulleys and hoists, slowly moved before the confessional altar and lowered deep into the grotto beneath St. Peter's.

The final resting place is alongside that of Pope Pius X, whom Pius XII raised to sainthood, and not far from where church history says St. Peter was buried.

Warsaw Gloom

IF NEGOTIATIONS in any field are to succeed, the positions of the negotiators have to be at least a little flexible. Taking that as a guide, we dare not be too hopeful of results from the Warsaw talks between America and Red China over Quemoy and Matsu. As far as can be determined, the Communist Chinese are interested in nothing but complete abandonment of those offshore islands by Chiang Kai-shek and his Nationalist forces. To this length Chiang, of course, would not go on his own, and it is plain we have no intention of trying to force him. We do not think he was wise to fortify Quemoy and Matsu with one third of his total army. But we will not ask him to yield them altogether.

AT MOST, IT IS apparent, we are willing to talk about the use of the offshore islands under Chiang's rule. This means we will consider urging him to reduce sharply the present large force he maintains. It could also mean we might go so far as to suggest the neutralization of the islands, long a minor thorn in the side of the Red Chinese mainland. None of this is likely to satisfy the Communists even as a steppingstone toward their objective of final conquest. They have demanded everything, and they cannot easily explain to their subjects any settlement that involves less than that.

FURTHERMORE, there is no indication we could get Chiang to agree to any of these conditions, either. After all, he put larger forces on the islands in defiance of our advice. And as for allowing these spots to be neutralized, the chances would appear to be slim. To Chiang, Quemoy and Matsu are symbols of his unyielding resolve to recover the mainland. While he can acknowledge that it probably will not be achieved without internal revolt, he refuses to stop hoping. And he uses the islands as a stage from which to probe and jab at his old adversary. Given all these firm factors on both sides, it is difficult to see how negotiations at Warsaw or anywhere else are likely to produce any sort of lasting solution at this time.

Blow To Democracy

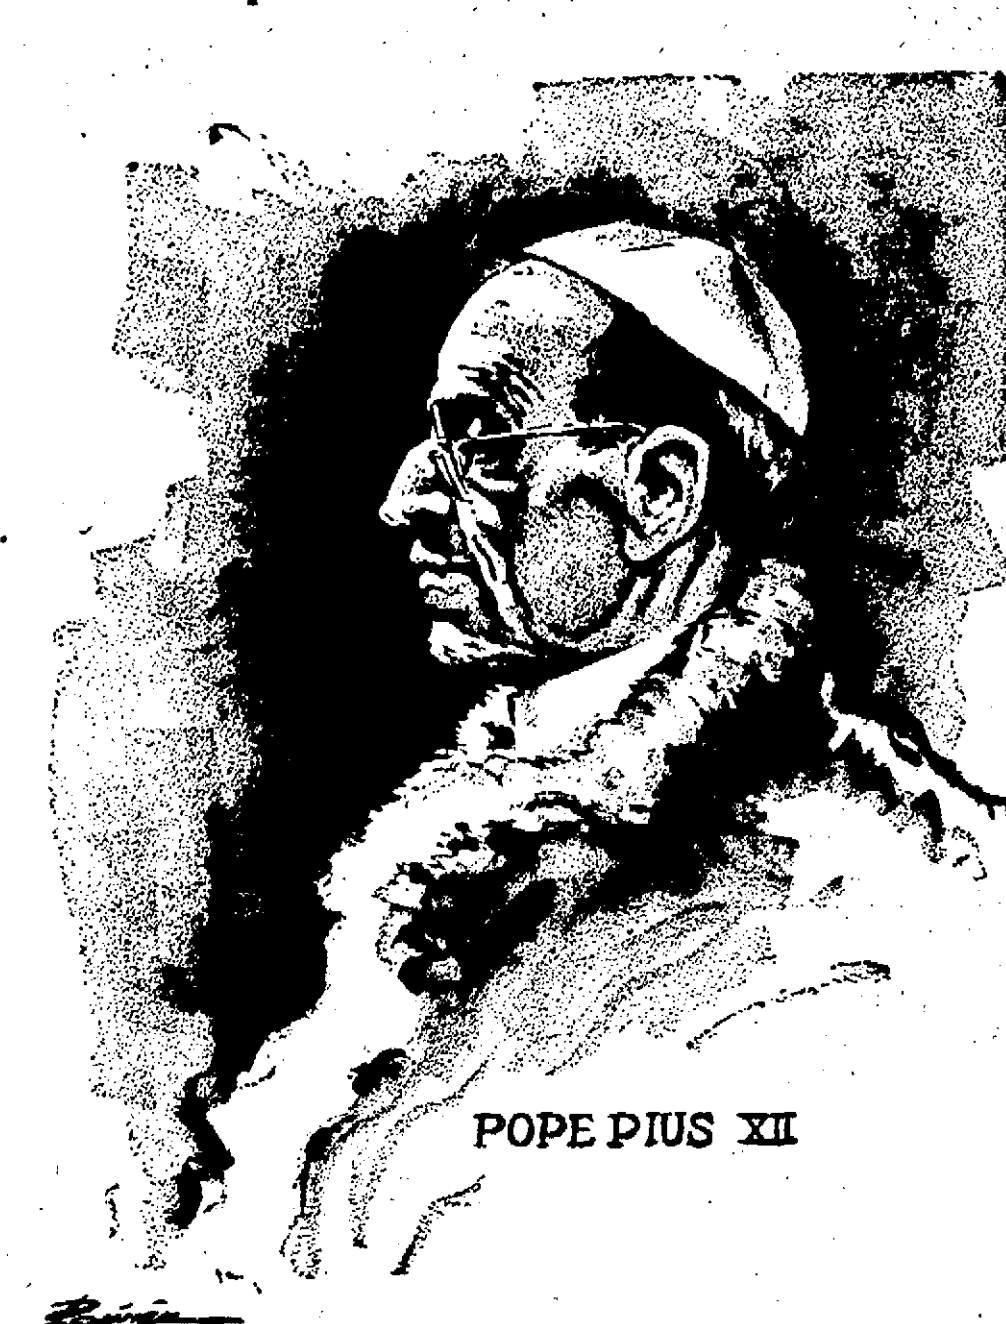

THE PROSPECTS for parliamentary government in Egypt seem to have gone down the drain. Reports from Cairo about the future of the United Arab Republic make no mention of a national parliament, which was to have been established soon after the republic came into being. The new executive council is designed to consolidate Nasser's control over both Egypt and Syria with a minimum of popular interference. This rejection of representative government in the area directly controlled by Nasser is not at all surprising. Yet though the Middle East has known little of democracy in the past it is with sadness and a sense of foreboding that we in the West see another parliament doomed to oblivion. Dictatorship has a long and infamous history. Government by the direct representation of the governed has never been out of danger since it gained its first foothold in ancient Greece. Nor can we be sure that, without unceasing vigilance, such government ever will be out of danger. Tyrants in all guises are ready and willing to take the decision-making chore away from the people. Those of us in the West who enjoy free representative government will hope that the submergence of the national U. A. R. parliament will be but temporary. Representative government and human dignity are inseparable.

The flashback is occasioned by the anniversary party being thrown at the gracious old Chicago restaurant, Henri's, to mark 90 years of service to its city. Kids, if you can hear us through that rock-and-roll dissonance, Henri's made itself more popular than ever back in the Twenties and Thirties, by advertising with this charming slogan: "No Orchestral Din."

Can Nixon Help Barrett In Wyoming?

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — Republican claims that Senator Frank Barrett will easily win re-election are subject to examination in the light of the fact that Vice-President Richard M. Nixon will take many hours of his valuable time to speak twice in the state for Barrett.

It may be that the closing weeks of the campaign will see a more concentrated GOP effort to nail down Congressional seats already held and let the rest go with the trend. For each day persistent evidence of a Democratic trend from Maine to California is accumulating.

Wyoming Democrats ask why their state should be an enclave in the midst of the national sea of pro-Democratic sentiment. Republicans have no answer to that except to insist it is so.

THAT THE Barrett challenger, Gale McGee, is the underdog is widely admitted. McGee, a professor of history at the state university, disputes it and believes he is materially helped by the great silent issue of the campaign — the question of war or peace in the Formosa Straits. He reports that it is the first question asked him even in small town sidewalk conversations and it of course lies in his chosen field.

Detached observers suggest that Barrett's saving asset is that he runs a tight ship in Washington. Queries received in the morning have an answer in the mail that night.

IT HAS always been true that Wyoming politics is very much a matter of individual contacts. In Wyoming the cows, sheep and now oil wells cluster thickly, the 300,000 people are spread thinly among the great open spaces and lovely mountains. It is possible for the candidates for Governor, Senate and the House — the one Congressman must run at large — to know nearly all the voters and voter reactions to a degree unknown in other states.

One calm politician has stopped shuffling the labor and farm votes, the ballots cast for ethnic and religious considerations. He lays his money down about mid-October after talking with a scattering of old friends about what each man's neighbors indicate they will do election day.

THE OUTCOME may be affected by the fact that the statehouse race is felt to be a dead heat between an attractive incumbent, Governor Milward Simpson, and an attractive challenger, Joe Hickey. This could help Democrat Ray Whitaker in his race against Representative Keith

Thomson — a contest about which strong opinions are currently lacking.

Special interest attaches to the Nixon visit because Wyoming is in the area of one of the major controversies over his political ethics. In 1954, the Vice-President undertook to keep the Senate Republican by vigorous campaigning in the mountain states which are not well understood and scantily reported in the centers of communication of the North, East and West Coast.

HIS TARGETS, Senators Neuberger of Oregon, Murray of Montana and O'Mahoney of Wyoming, survived. But they felt then and still do, that Nixon conveyed imputations of treason with his soft-on-communism charges. They do not forgive nor forget. The Vice-President has defied them successfully to produce the written record; they can't, but they know what impressions they and their neighbors got.

McGee is of course a tempting target for the old Nixon, as he is a college professor, an intellectual, and not even afraid to talk about China. But, says a McGee supporter, dorkily, "I'll be at them Nixon meetings this time with a tape recorder."

Policy Weather Changes In Capital

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There's an old saying in Washington that, "If you don't like the weather here, wait a minute."

With not much more exaggeration, the same thing might be said about U.S. foreign policy on Quemoy and Matsu.

When the Chinese Communists began their bombardment on Aug. 29, the U.S. State Department declared that the offshore islands were definitely related to Formosa, and that a Communist attack could not be a limited engagement.

A week later, after visiting President Eisenhower at Newport, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said there had been no finding that employment of U.S. forces on Quemoy and Matsu was required for the defense of Formosa.

Still another week later, in his broadcast talk to the nation, the President declared that Chinese Communist attacks on Quemoy and Matsu were part of a program to conquer Formosa.

THE NEXT STEP was Secretary Dulles' statement that if the Chinese Communists would consent to a cease-fire, a withdrawal of Nationalist forces from the islands might be made.

Chinese Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek then declared that this statement was completely incompatible with his determination to hold the offshore islands and vowed no reduction of his forces there.

The next day Secretary Dulles assured President Chiang that American policy remained unchanged.

What it was unchanged from was not publicly spelled out. But the assumption is that Chiang is now assured there will be no appeasement of Red China and no abandonment of him.

With that, Secretary Dulles imposed a five-day diplomatic ceasefire of his own and retreated to his own offshore Duck Island in the St. Lawrence three-mile limit.

THAT IS HOW matters stood when the Communists temporarily abandoned their bombardment of Quemoy and Matsu, beginning a seven-day cease-fire.

What happens next is anybody's guess. But if there are still other changes of the U.S. position on this highly charged and controversial issue, don't be surprised.

In six weeks the United States has been on almost every side of this hexagonal Chinese puzzle. It has been difficult for reporters to write about and explain. It is almost impossible for the public to understand.

In all this shifting of ground, it can be said there has been no thought of complete surrender of the Chinese Nationalists. The United States has been, and still is, ready to defend Formosa. It is committed by congressional resolution and by treaty with the Nationalists.

But on the offshore islands, there still has been "no decision" to defend them as essential to the defense of Formosa. This is the same position that Secretary Dulles declared over a month ago at Newport.

IF THIS IS confusing, it is also diplomacy.

Foreign policy can't be written on tablets of stone and then stuck to, come hurricane or high water.

The policy, as Secretary Dulles says, has to be kept "flexible." It changes as the situation changes.

If one policy doesn't work, back up and try another. It's like a military probing attack, in one sense. Look for a weakness in the enemy's lines, then break through and exploit it.

Foreign policy must be sensitive not only to allied pressures, but to the opponent's strategy as well. Communist diplomats are masters at completely reversing their policies to meet changing conditions.

Foreign policy must also be sensitive to influence from Congress and the American public reaction at home. That's why you are apt to see still more changes in China policy before this thing is settled.

But basically, the American policies of resistance to aggression, resistance to communism and the defense of small nations will remain solid.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—If you have been going to and covering theatres for a matter of 34 years, about as embarrassing a number as one can mention in polite company without a grimace or a sudden twinge of arthritis, you have certain Broadway Opening Nights fixed in your aging mind as having been superlative.

They had a magic combination of excitement, house afire show plus a sense that these were milestones and monuments in the American theatre. They advanced its form, broke through to new frontiers and created challenges. One such was "West Side Story," now about 13 months old and still a strong, virile show filled with everything a show should have.

A PERSISTENT memory of that night, September 26, 1957, is of a lean, tall, rangy youngster who came out and sang "Maria," as lovely a romantic song as our show business has heard in years, and when he was finished there was a moment of stunned silence and then the roof fell in. Rarely, under any circumstance, has a lad caused such a lasting tumult in an audience.

VISITING backstage at "West Side Story" the other afternoon, it seemed reasonable to walk up one flight of stairs and go in to talk to Larry Kert, who turned out to be a relaxed, hard-working young man who divides his interests between the show, riding difficult horses at an Eastern dude ranch on week-ends, giving sound psychiatric advice to an Italian greyhound momentarily becalmed by the conviction that he has sired a litter of pups whelped by an English sheep dog and working late at night in acting classes which most hard-headed professionals would describe as something he needs like a hole in the head.

He doesn't agree. "How can anyone ever stop learning anything," he said, "and hope to have anything valuable?"

LARRY Kert's L-shaped dressing-room is a rat's nest of objects. Japanese wedding tokens, Japanese wind-chimes (the wooden, not the glass, kind), Western clothes, pictures of horses, an assortment of cigarette lighters, a mound of telegrams, published dramatic plays, Oriental prints,

Legs, Noses And Pretzels

READING, Pa. — In this handsome and sedate city a substantial segment of the population has a legitimate interest in ladies' legs.

The folks here, in addition, are pretzel fanciers every one, while the city administration momentarily is deeply concerned about how one of the biggest illicit distilleries the Federal raiders have located, with a capacity of 160,000 gallons of booze a week, ran in the center of town for a year and a half without anybody ever smelling it.

You get the idea. I had to make a speech here at the Elks' home at the behest of the Reading Eagle. This oratory I considered a resounding success; nobody threw any hard rolls in my direction. I also had time to circulate around a little and with that introduction we'll consider legs, pretzels, and bootleggers in that order.

READING is a hosiery-manufacturing center even though this business, thanks largely to the ladies, themselves, isn't booming quite as before. The female sex started going without stockings in the summer a few years back and that didn't help, though I gathered that a lady in Reading who dared appear publicly without nylons probably would be jailed for patriotic reasons.

THEN THE women around this land started going for seamless hosiery, while Reading's mighty mills were geared to making the full-fashioned kind with seams up the back. They took some time to catch up and this, plus labor troubles a few years ago, slowed down the hosiery business here. Even so, several thousand people are employed in it, while hosiery displays, with and without pearls sewn around the heels, are in many store windows.

Many a local lady, according to one of the editor who was quoting his wife, buys her nylons (without jewels) at outlet stores for around 33 cents a pair, or three for a dollar. The pretzel business is different.

THREE BIG pretzel bakeries small medals awarded to him by members of the cast for a variety of feats, some amusing, some tart and some slightly naughty. Everything is in a jumble except his brains. They are clear and work efficiently.

"I COME from a horsing family," he said. "My father inherited my grandfather's riding stables in the San Fernando Valley in Los Angeles. We were Canadians before then.

"I have two early memories that are clear: I was just over two years old when I sat my first horse, a big roan with a back you could build a house on, and at five playing Fredric March's son in a movie.

"There was a long hiatus of no work after that. Nine years. I was 14 when I started doing stunt riding for movies. When I was leaping horses off cliffs and in and out of gullies. It was fun at 16, but it advanced me a swift 1/1000th of an inch professionally. I imagine I still would be doing it if I hadn't told myself to come to New York and beat on doors. I auditioned for the role of Riff in 'West Side' but when they found I could get to High C they gave me the male lead. That's about it."

IT ISN'T about it at all. He has a sister, Anita Ellis, who for some time has been the voice you hear when Rita Hayworth sings in a movie, and has performed other notable contributions to cinema. Now she is in New York for the new Rodgers & Hammerstein musical, "The Flower Drum Song."

Actually, both youngsters have been working at the show business for a long time, since they were about this high, and it has been good for them. One reason is that neither is a knuckle-head. They take their jobs seriously, work constantly toward improvement and have no time for nonsense. An atom scientist would advance himself using the same formula. Or a banker or a contractor.

Since his success in "West Side Story," the movies have stormed Larry's door asking him to come on in, the money's fine.

"I have no contempt for movies or money," he said. "I just want to wait awhile and learn my trade."

(McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

operate around the clock, twisting their dainties by machinery as elaborate as Rube Goldberg's. Twenty smaller pretzel foundries tie theirs by hand and a skilled pretzel knitter is a highly paid specialist.

Pretzels come in many flavors, all salty. The true pretzel aficionados, who held a sampling for me, claim that the hand-tied ones are best. This, they insist, is because they are made with butter and has nothing to do with the fingers of the pretzel twisters. They also claim that Reading pretzels are superior because of the local water, which contains considerable flavorful lime. That brings us inevitably to the subject of drinking.

HIS HONOR, the mayor, plus numerous other city officials, and gents in snappy suits and black eyebrows, have received pink greetings from a Federal grand jury at Philadelphia about an hour down the pike. The jurors want to know what's wrong with Reading's noses.

The biggest still ever captured in the East was raided last June. Installing a three-story columnar still involved a $250,000 remodeling job on a local warehouse, but nobody bothered about getting a building permit.

When the still got going good, it consumed a fabulous amount of water, but the meter readers apparently didn't notice. The spent mash had to be disposed of and this called for a bigger sewer connection. Nobody observed that, either, while not an official soul smelled a thing.

His Honor says he'll be glad to testify, and I wish I could stay longer in Reading. It is an interesting city.

So They Say

If the President . . . and the secretary of state persist in following a warlike course of action over the Quemoy and Matsu islands . . . the American people should demand that the impeachment procedures of the Constitution . . . be put into effect.

—Sen Wayne Morse (D-Ore.)

I wake up every morning with a real sense of apprehension, because we are playing with such dangerous (nuclear) weapons . . . We are all the time trembling on the brink, pulling back a bit and then going forward.

—British Laborite leader Aneurin Bevan.

In a few days, I'll be the most unemployed member of the UAW (United Auto Workers).

—President Walter Reuther, after he and General Motors, last of the "Big Three" automakers, signed contract.

I hardly feel that the people of the United States want to go to war for an island (Quemoy) as close to the mainland of China as Staten Island is to New York City.

Reporter's Notebook

By SAUL PETT
For Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — People, especially to male people, pass through fascinating attitudes toward the telephone.

To an infant learning to use her fingers, the telephone is an object of curiosity, especially the holes in the dial ring. To the baby learning to walk and reach up, the phone is an enticing target to be pulled down with a crash. To a healthy girl of 10 or 11, the phone is a fine instrument of torture.

At this age, they call people with the oddest names in the directory to tease them. Or they call their school teacher, wait until she says hello several times before they giggle and hang up.

BUT IT IS IN THE teens that a girl develops a passion for the phone from which she never recovers.

At this age, as every rattled father knows, using the phone involves three basic ground rules.

You never talk 10 minutes when you can talk forty-five. You must talk with your head down, knees or legs up, and the blood rushing to your head. Regardless of text, you must always, but always, talk in absolute, fool-proof, spy-proof, younger-sister-proof secrecy.

Thus when phoning a girl friend you saw only 20 minutes ago, you must drag the phone into the closet or bathroom and bolt the door.

You whisper to the party of the second part: "Guess what?" Then pause. This is the signal for the other girl to bolt her doors and windows and set up a maximum security watch. Finally, she asks, "What?" and you say in hushed, sepulchral tones: "I saw him today."

Here, at least a full moment of silence must follow until the message sinks in, down to the last red and white corpuscle of both parties. Then, 38 minutes later, the situation becomes clearer.

It turns out that she did see "him" but while "he" may not have actually seen her, any reasonable person, given a knowledge of the wind direction, of the speed of sound and the force of osmosis, could safely assume that "he" must have been aware of her presence.

For most of eternity, teen-age girls talk to each other. But every now and then, like an awesome clap of thunder, he calls.

INEVITABLY, younger sister answers. Younger sister races hysterically up the stairs, screaming he is on the phone. Older sister quickly composes herself. She wants to know why all the shouting. She is blasé. She is detached. She is so indifferent and casual getting to the phone she falls down the stairs.

Younger sister races through the house, screaming: "He's going to ask her to marry him at age fifteen. I think they're too young. I think they ought to be annulled." Older sister asks casually, into the phone, who's calling, is told, asks again as though she can't place the name. They talk. She is oh, so light and matter of fact. Then it turns out all she wanted was the algebra assignment for tomorrow.

Older sister races upstairs, bolts doors, weeps, plans glamorous suicide. Eight minutes later she is fully recovered and back on the phone, talking to her girl friend. "Guess what?"

NEW YORK—The myrial positive men who have said that "radio, with the exception of news and music, is dead," would do well to cast their allegedly shrewd eyes upon a large and attractively unhandsome man named Don McNeill.

For 25 years now, McNeill has been causing otherwise normal, grouchy people to walk around their breakfast tables wearing brave smiles.

His "Breakfast Club" on ABC is the one long-standing radio fixture which the masterminds have been afraid to rip off the air in favor of that brand of music which sends man, woman and child to work with a jangled nerve and a jerky psyche.

QUITE NATURALLY, McNeill is proud of his record. In New York last week for a series of broadcasts "Breakfast Club" usually emanates from Chicago, he said:

"If radio really is dead, 150-thousand people dropped in for the funeral of our show last year."

McNeill's zany, informal hour is now in its third generation of devoted listeners. Because of its long duration, thousands of listeners have the impression that McNeill—with whose voice they've lived every week day—is quite elderly. Actually, he's just fifty. After a quarter century of rising at 6 a. m. and forcing himself into a mood of early-morning cheerfulness, he looks even younger.

On the subject of early-birding for a fat salary, he says: "The first few years it's really tough, but after you do it for 13 or 20 years, it gets worse."

The incredible popularity of young, old Uncle Don can be attributed mainly to two factors. The show is, purposely, built on blunders made by audience members and by the informal cast. Its record is one blunder every two minutes.

The other factor is corn. Don readily admits he's the corniest man he knows—and "corn" to him is "old-fashioned friendliness, rather than the obvious joke." He built a log cabin near Chicago in 1940 and called it "Lumbago Manor." Because it had a creek in the back, "This is what he means."

Hollywood stars stop off in Chicago en route to New York. To get a laconic hearing on "B. C." Famous graduates of his show—Johnny Desmond, Johnny Johnston, Patti Page, Fibber McGee and Molly—drop in frequently to perform free for their ex-boss.

IT DOUBTLESS irks many "dead radio" experts that the "Breakfast Club" has remained solidly wedged on the network among the rocks and rolls. But every time a brooding eye is cast in his direction, McNeill says he likes lemon pie, and a couple hundred housewives bake him some; or he mentions a bad tooth, and the network is flooded with false teeth for their beloved sufferer.

Maybe his moments of silent prayer on the show have helped him through these critical times, when most live radio is dying.

It is also possible that McNeill's tenure proves that the moguls can't mastermind all of the people all of the time. And that the top 40 tunes, no matter how raucous, can never replace a friend.

Work Begins In Narrows

The first phase of the plan to beautify the Narrows approach to Cumberland was completed with the grading work done by the Cumberland City Street Department recently.

Donald A. Workman, chairman of the civic improvement committee of Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, stated that the committee has formulated plans for landscaping 900 feet of the area along U.S. Route 40, and will plant shrubbery and seed the area in order to make the approach to the city more attractive.

Workman stated that a conference with John J. Long, commissioner of streets and public property, resulted in the cooperation of the city in the project.

A picnic area will also be developed as part of the plan to capitalize on the beauty of the Narrows.

Other members of the committee headed by Workman are: W. Bruce Douglas, Walter Hensel, Hugh A. McMullin, William M. Wilson, Robert Esler, and John R. MacVeigh.

Image Of America:

Russ Paints False Picture

There is the mirror of propaganda.

The average Russian, if he believes his papers, magazines and radio, sees America as a land of endless calamity, crime, strikes, unemployment. He sees Uncle Sam in cartoons, grim, frightening, with a bomb in either hand, intent on destroying nationalism everywhere.

He sees, not the tall buildings or parks or theaters, but the slums of New York. He doesn't see the American farmer who owns his own place and car, but only the share cropper. He sees the American Negro living a sub-human existence.

But there are signs that even the Russians can't swallow all their government's propaganda. Frequently, they will ask visiting Americans:

"Things aren't really bad in America, are they?"

"You don't have that much unemployment, do you?"

In Poland, too, Communists run a propaganda mill but the Poles occasionally show some humor about it, even at their own expense.

A magazine cartoon showed two

Frizzi remembers the evening vividly.

The restaurant was crowded as Beppe, the old vendor, came around selling his balloons. He came to a table of American tourists drinking too much Chianti. One American rose vaguely to his feet and, in lacerated Italian, shouted: "I want to help you Italians. I'll buy all your balloons!"

"All the working class fellows like myself felt quite embarrassed," Frizzi says. "Beppe, himself, who rarely sells all his balloons, told the loudmouth he needed no charity. But the booster produced a handful of banknotes and Beppe explained to the rest of us that he still had to pay his rent. So, a little ashamed, he sold his balloons to the American and the American went around giving the balloons to the children."

"I'm rather proud to report that the fathers took the balloons off the hands of their crying children and, without saying a word, returned them to the American."

"This boastful behavior is similar to that of the U. S. leaders who seemed to think they could keep the Middle East on their side just by pouring dollars in."

In Sydney, Australia, Jim O'Regan, construction worker, says:

"The Americans are fair dinkum—they're the same as us. I know. I fought alongside them during the war. It was their help that saved Australia. No one had better say a bad word against the Yankees to me—I'd hit him smartly."

In Rome, there is Luisa Florio, 25, pretty, an artist. She dates Americans occasionally and generally likes them. But...

"With an American date, one of the first things he talks about is of all things—is to ask my political affiliation. When I tell him I have none, he grows suspicious. He questions me closely. Do I like Eisenhower and Dulles or prefer the Russians?"

"This kind of thing makes many Americans unwelcome here. We don't like to be investigated for communism before going out with a chance acquaintance for coffee or a ride to the beach."

And on the other side of the world, in Jakarta, Indonesia, a bartender named Jami Sama says:

"True, Americans are fighting communism. It is a selfish fight, to dominate the world and run the world's economy. 'But I am a Christian and so I'm on their side. But the Americans are too sensitive about it. If someone disagrees with them, they think he's a Communist.'"

A second course for new leaders of Brownie, Intermediate and Senior Girl Scout troops in the area served by Cumberland Council will begin Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the assembly room of Cresaptown Methodist Church.

Mrs. R. C. Adams will be instructor.

The sessions will include exhibits, demonstrations, discussions and film strips. There will be six meetings, with one session to be held out of doors, at which time the outdoor phase of the program will be practiced.

Mrs. Adams is the second volunteer trainer to give a course this fall as part of the council's training program. In addition to having taken special training to give this course, Mrs. Adams has had several years' experience in Girl Scout leadership and has conducted parent-child study groups for the Allegany County Board of Education.

Any leaders interested in the course who have not received an application may contact the Girl Scout office, P. A. 4-3270.

The fourth session of the course for new leaders which is being given in the mornings at the Girl Scout House, Greene Street, will be held Tuesday of this week instead of Thursday. This week's session will include an evaluation of the outdoor session held last

Color Influences Behavior

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI)—If you want to look 10 years younger, be seen only in places where lights give off a purplish-red hue.

A man who's been influencing human behavior with color for 21 years said he has documentary proof that the dynamic suggestion really works.

"And if you doubt it," added Howard Ketcham, "flood your bathroom with purplish-red and look in the mirror."

The consultant has originated color and design plans for every make of car, for fountain pens, caskets, supermarkets, railroads, the telephone company and for just about every industry.

Color affects more than appearance. It can, said the expert, tell on your psyche. And the colors in your environment influence you to a startling degree.

Sees Fear In Grey
The popularity of the grey flannel suit along Madison Ave., advertising row, is a sign to Ketcham that the men who wear it fear the client. He said:

"Grey is a mousey color. It doesn't offend. It fades into the background. These men know they can't offend the client or overshadow him."

Some years ago, the Blackfriars Bridge in London was repainted from black to green. With the color change Ketcham noted, the number of suicides there.

When a supermarket wanted to do something to perk up sales in luxury foods, a subtle arrow design—in red—was worked into the floor covering. It pointed at the luxury foods and, said Ketcham, the sub-conscious of shoppers responded.

Sales soared.

Yellow Good For Work

In an office, Ketcham said, the coldness of pale green walls frequently gives girls the chills. In one office the girls shed their jackets and sweaters after the chairs were dressed in orange. The temperature hadn't changed, but they felt warmer.

Other points made by Ketcham:

—An olive green room is comforting to persons with ulcers.

—Yellow walls increase brain activity and make a person feel good, wide awake.

—Donations increase when charities use pale blue-green envelopes in their mail solicitations.

—Red stimulates pulse, brain and appetite.

—At dinner parties, the purplish-red that makes a person look ten years younger also stretches the beverages. "At least," said Ketcham, "most persons relax faster."

Red China, like Russia, floods its people with anti-American propaganda. How much of it takes hold?

Refugees and travelers reaching Hong Kong report that the average Chinese still likes Americans as individuals and envies our freedom and wealth. But he also is convinced that America seeks to dominate smaller nations, that it gives foreign aid only with strings attached, that it looks down its nose at all non-whites, that it is guilty of the worst hypocrisy by encouraging anti-communism but refusing to make room in America for Oriental refugees from communism.

There is the mirror of personal experience, limited but enduring.

Keith Thompson, a London cop, generally approves of U.S. foreign policy. He, like most of his countrymen, feel Britain and America are wedded by common language and purpose.

"But why," asks Thompson, "do visiting Americans seem so bossy when they ask how to get to the Tower of London?"

Americans like to overplay a part. They talk a lot and seem much larger than life."

James Dlamini is 28, a Zulu. He cleans offices in Johannesburg, South Africa.

"I think," he says, "that the United States must be much better than this place. There is too much color bar here. I understand the American Negro is no different from the white man in his home country. At least, he doesn't have to carry a pass, the way I do."

In Hong Kong, there is an angry young man, a Chinese student who once studied in New York. He refused to give his name.

"I hate America," he said. "Once an American woman spat on me in Atlantic City because I took out an American girl."

"There may not be much freedom in China but I am going back. I am going back to help the Communists build up the country and make it strong. And then let them try to insult us."

Auto Workers Remain Idle In Baltimore

Union Members Vote To Continue 10-Day Old Strike

BALTIMORE (AP) — Members of a striking United Auto Workers local have voted to continue their 10-day strike at a plant operated by General Motors.

Albert J. Mattes, president of Local 239, said some 600 of the local's estimated 1,500 members voted unanimously last night in support of "their justifiable local demands."

Local 239 represents workers at the Fisher body plant and Local 678 represents an equal number of workers at the Chevrolet plant. In Detroit during the weekend, the UAW's General Motors National Conference voted to ratify a national agreement with the company, but Mattes said it was made clear that local demands will have to be settled before the strike against General Motors is ended.

Mattes said the international union has reiterated its stand to give full backing and financial support to local demands which have been a stumbling block to settlement of the strike.

The local said issues still to be settled include wage inequities of from 5 to 15 cents an hour, seniority and overtime questions.

Union negotiators were scheduled to meet with management today, Mattes said, in an effort to reach a settlement. Picketing was to continue. Another union meeting has been set for Thursday night to vote on the national settlement.

Desire For Income Rivals Inflation As Prime Stock Market Mover

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wall Street has been talking about inflation as the prime mover of the stock market and markets for so long that everybody seems to take that for granted.

The inflation assumption could be wrong. Perhaps it isn't inflation but a desire to put money to work for income.

That's an interesting angle and it is brought out in relief by Stephen Packard of Standard & Poor's. He notes the fact that high-grade corporate bonds now yield 4.10 per cent against an average yield of 3.50 per cent for industrial common stocks.

A spread like this—bonds yielding higher than stocks—has occurred from time to time for relatively brief periods. It isn't the usual relationship between bonds and stocks.

The problem is to find what caused bonds to lose out in demand and stocks to gain in demand.

Seek Higher Yields

Packer holds that American individuals and institutions over the past have been motivated primarily by a quest for higher yields rather than a desire to protect themselves against inflation.

"This search for higher yields," he says, "has been accomplished largely within the framework of fixed-income securities. Principal growth in holdings for most institutions has been in mortgages and corporate and municipal bonds—most of this at the expense of government bonds."

"Corporate pension funds have added to holdings of common stocks, but far more to those of corporate bonds. Even individuals, over the past three years, have added far more to bond and note holdings than to stocks."

"Institutions' eagerness to snap up mortgages as they become available, and the success of corporations and state and local governments in floating record amounts of debt, do not square with the premise that fear of inflation is the crucial factor underlying current investment decisions."

See Bond Lag Temporary

"Neither does the record growth of savings deposits achieved during the first several months of this year."

An indication of lack of real inflation hedging in stocks is seen as the failure of mineral and raw material groups that are primary hedges against inflation to perform spectacularly.

The government bond list, Packer holds, has been dragged down by special and temporary factors.

These factors include heavy issues of long bonds, the speculative wave that ended in disaster for many speculators, uncertainties over federal reserve moves in the money market, and record bond quotations.

Inflation fears may have motivated some investor decisions, Packer admits, but he believes that other factors would appear to bear primary responsibility for today's stock market strength and bond market weakness.

Inflation May Be Abating

"Changes in these factors," he says, "could restore the customary gap between stock and bond yields without significant change in the outlook for inflation."

"It is possible that the pressures for inflation are abating just when the business upturn, big federal deficits, and the memory of last winter's high food prices are combining to magnify its presence in the public's mind."

"If the Ford settlement is any indication, the wage-price source of inflation may be moderating. 'Commodity prices have recently shown signs of leveling, and lower food prices are in prospect. The Federal Reserve's well-publicized attack on inflation may also have an impact.'"

One policy can insure this whole family

WITH the new Metropolitan Family Plan, you can have additional permanent insurance on yourself and provide insurance on the lives of your family all at the same time... and with just one policy.

Here are some of the provisions of this plan:

For you: Permanent Life insurance with regular cash and loan values... and the additional advantage of reduced premiums guaranteed for the first five years that the policy is in effect.

For your wife: Term insurance on her life of about one-fourth the amount of your insurance under this policy. It continues in effect until the time you are or would have been 85.

For your children between the ages of 14 days and 18 years—term insurance on each child until age 25. The premium is the same regardless of the number of children, and those born after the policy comes into effect will be automatically covered after they are 14 days old.

A further advantage for your children is that when each child reaches age 25, he or she can take out permanent insurance of up to five times the amount of the term insurance without medical examination.

Another feature of the Metropolitan

Family Plan is this: In the case of your death, your wife and children receive the benefits from your insurance, and the insurance on their lives continues in effect without further premium payments.

You will find that this is an ideal policy to add to your present insurance, or to cover your wife and children. Ask your Metropolitan Representative to explain all of its many desirable features. He will be pleased to do so without any obligation on your part.

Metropolitan service is as local as Main Street... as close as your phone

Meeting Set On TV Plan For Frostburg

FROSTBURG — A public meeting on the program offered by the Frostburg Community Television Company will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the city hall, according to Joseph James, vice president of the firm.

James said that help is needed to assist in promoting a drive to raise funds. He pointed out that 96 subscribers made it possible for the citizens of Frostburg to get a near perfect picture on the present UHF rebroadcast on an experimental basis. "We know that UHF-TV is a success in our community," said the mayor, "but we need funds to support and maintain our present installation along with providing more networks for the pleasure of our citizens."

The group, a non-profit organization, aims to give the citizens of Frostburg and surrounding area near perfect television reception from the four networks.

To do this they pointed out that they will need the help of every citizen in Frostburg. A new building will have to be erected on Dan's Mountain to house the four translators. A new tower will have to be installed to hold the four rebroadcasting antennae.

James explained that service men in Frostburg will show any family in or around Frostburg the type of reception that may be had from the UHF rebroadcast by asking for a free demonstration in the home. Several business houses have installed sets in their stores and numerous members of the group said they would show the reception in their own homes if contacted.

Officers of Frostburg Television Inc., are: Kenneth Close, president; Joseph James, vice president; Virgil Ruppenthal, executive vice president; Dane Harvey, secretary; William Vogtman, treasurer, and Charles Graham, Dane Harvey and Robert Delaney, engineers.

Need Of Building Program At Potomac State Aired

KEYSER — Potomac State College alumni headed home yesterday from a weekend of homecoming festivities after being asked by President E. E. Church to assist in a long-term building program.

"No college is stronger than its alumni," he told approximately 100 former students who assembled at the Upper Potomac Shrine Club Saturday night for a dinner.

"We look to you for guidance and help," he added.

Dr. Church noted several additions that are needed in the next several years, among them a library, auditorium, classroom space, and renovation of the men's dormitory.

"We have 620 students this year," Dr. Church said, "but with sufficient space we could have handled 750." He gave no estimate of the cost of the building program.

The homecoming program began Friday night with a campus tour, and was climaxed by a football game Saturday afternoon between Potomac State and Shepherd College.

The alumni elected Thomas Conlon, Keyser, as president for the coming year. He succeeds Ralph J. Bean, Moorefield, president of the West Virginia State Senate.

Other officers are Betty Hanlin, Keyser, vice president, and Kenneth Haynes, Keyser, secretary-treasurer.

During the dinner, Bean announced that Robert McBride, Keyser, and James T. Allen, Senks Grove, were recipients of the alumni association's first two scholarships. The scholarship fund was created during Bean's term as president.

Elmo Gower, Class of '31, was principal speaker at the dinner and narrated his experiences while a lawyer in West Germany. Gower returned to this country a few months ago and is now living at Silver Spring, Md.

City-Owned Lots Will Be Put On Block

The city engineer has been requested to prepare a list of all city-owned lots suitable for building purposes which could be offered for bids and placed on the tax books.

Finance Commissioner Lucille Roeder revealed the request in connection with the report on a bid of James H. Raikes for Lots 7, 8 and 9 in Block 43 of Ridgedale Addition. She said she had investigated the lots, as ordered by council, from both the standpoint of getting the property back on the tax books and in regard to a health hazard which might be created by use of a septic tank in an area adjacent to Ridgedale Reservoir.

A health department report contained in her statement said a large amount of septic systems, putting sewage in the ground over a many year period may be a future source of contamination.

She said she felt even the slightest report in respect to water contamination should be recognized and recommended that sale of the lots be withheld until such time as property owners are willing to bear cost of an adequate sewer. She also recommended that the health department issue no more septic tank permits for the Ridgedale Reservoir area.

Some discussion was also held on the Van Buren Avenue sewer before it was tabled one week for further consideration. Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Gump said the sewer being installed would service only one side of the street.

Prior to tabling the issue for a week, Street Commissioner John J. Long said he felt sewers should be installed adequately now and not dug up for replacement later as a matter of good business.

City Guard Order Passed By Council

Commissioners Must Approve Appointees Under New Policy

The Mayor and Council today approved an order making appointments of school crossing guards subject to approval of Council.

Previously, the commissioner of police and fire and chief of police had named the guards who are employed on a parttime, hourly pay basis.

In another first, council authorized a refund of contributions to the Police Pension Fund. The refund of $62.40 goes to Mrs. Bettie Williams who had been policeman until the job was abolished some weeks ago. Council, the order said, felt she was entitled to the refund since the job was abolished through no fault of her own.

The city will also receive a refund of $145.60 representing its contribution to the fund for Mrs. Williams' benefit.

McMullen Appointed

In other action today, council confirmed the appointment of Attorney Hugh A. McMullen as a member of the Housing Authority of Cumberland. His term will be for five years, expiring October 17, 1963.

Street Commissioner John J. Long was authorized to purchase a 40-ton carload of bag salt for use on streets during the winter months. Cost is $872.

Council accepted a deed from Bessie Schuh conveying to the city part of Lot 1, Block 28 of Johnson Heights Addition, intersection of Kent and Brookfield Avenues, in consideration for payment of $1 to reimburse her for expenses involved. Another order released paving liens in the amount of $1,440.51 and granted those insolventcies to the tax collector.

Off-Church Grounds

Emmanuel Episcopal Church vestry again offered its grounds at Baltimore and Greene streets for the annual city Christmas display.

Council received a letter from Attorney William C. Walsh, attorney for Potomac Edison Company, in which it was pointed out PE wants to reserve the right to recover cost of the removal of poles and other facilities in connection with the Cumberland Thruway.

The proposal was made as the result of recent discussions by the Council with the State Roads Commission on financing of the Thruway. The city had discussed a lump sum payment to the SRC with the state body then paying all the costs. PE wants to reserve the right to recover costs from either the city or SRC.

Carazola of Canonsburg, Pa., the pair at right above, won the top event in the eighth annual championship tournament of the Western Maryland Bridge Association which was concluded yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club. Dr. and Mrs. Carazola, who won the open pair event, are shown with Mr. and Mrs. George W. Durgin, Mercersburg, Pa., who placed second in the mixed pair event after first being declared the winners of the play. A discrepancy in the score was noticed by officials who announced that the first place rating was won by Dorothy Atkins and James O. Lipman, Washington team. Over 400 players participated in the tourney.

Bedford Road Baptist Unit To Be Formed

The Bedford Road Baptist Mission will be officially organized as a church at services tomorrow at 8 p. m. according to Rev. J. C. Ledbetter, pastor.

The principal speaker at the service of organization will be Rev. Roy Gresham, executive secretary of the Maryland State Baptist Association. Rev. Mr. Ledbetter said, adding that pastors and deacons from other Baptist churches in Allegheny County will participate.

The church will be the second in this county to be organized by Rev. Mr. Ledbetter, he having been the guiding force behind the formation of LaVale Baptist Church two years ago.

The retiring director of mission work for Second Baptist Church, Rev. Mr. Ledbetter also organized two other churches in Maryland. They are Georgia Avenue Church and Viers Mill Church, both in Silver Spring.

Clergy participating in organizational service will be Rev. Cornelius B. Davis, pastor of Second Church; Rev. Archie Prevotte, First Church; Rev. Randolph Keefe Jr., Grace Church, and Rev. William Rogers, Mt. Lake Park Church.

Laymen who will assist include Charles Hunt, Carl Cookerly, Roy Simpson and Leon England. All deacons in the Baptist Church.

Council To Commend ABL Moon Rocket Job

Commissioner John J. Long pointed out today the important role of Allegheny Ballistics Laboratory in the historic moon shot and the Mayor and Council voted to send a letter of commendation.

ABL produced the third stage which boosted the rocket free of the earth's gravity.

Corriganville PTA To Meet Tomorrow

The monthly meeting of Corriganville School Parent-Teacher Association will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. to plan fall activities.

There will be room visitation from 7 p. m. to 7:30 p. m.

Physical Fitness Of Pupils Decried

A pilot study of the physical fitness of Allegheny County school children reveals that over 56 per cent of those checked failed to pass a simple test involving six exercises.

This would mean that they failed to meet even a minimum standard required for general health and survival in case of emergency.

In Europe only 8.3 per cent of children tested revealed failures in these same physical fitness tests.

Allegheny County's percentage compares with the national average of 56.6 per cent of failures and as a result the Board of Education has decided to do something about children getting "soft."

Robert E. Pence, supervisor of physical education, has been given approval by Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, to institute immediate measures to do something about the situation.

Have To Walk
Pence noted that the wide difference between American and European school children is that European children do not have the benefit of a highly mechanized society.

They do not use cars, elevators or other labor saving devices, but must walk most places. Their recreation is based mainly on active use of their own bodies.

American children, the county supervisor observed, usually ride most every where they go, engage in recreation as spectators instead of participants (especially in front of television sets) and take advantage of modern conveniences which eliminate most home chores without replacing them with physical activity.

Kids Grow Soft
Allegheny County youngsters, Pence declared, like others in the nation have consequently grown soft.

Most children and adults as well are weaklings in three areas—hands, arms, shoulders and upper trunk muscles. This causes them to protrude and shoulders to sag, he said.

Pence next observed that weak abdominal muscles accentuated by a layer of fat allows the pelvis to sag. This taps the spin forward and the resulting sway-back invites low back pain.

He declared that medical conclusions are that lack of sufficient exercise constitutes as serious a deficiency as vitamin deficiency.

A muscle not used will shrink and remain undeveloped. Medical research has proved that physically active live longer, age later, tire less easily, show less muscular and emotional tension, are less susceptible to coronary heart disease, diabetes, ulcers, stiff neck and backaches.

Parents, Teachers Must Help Pence said the answer, then, is for parents and teachers to insist on more physical activity.

City Players Blanked In Tournament

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Carazola, Canonsburg, Pa., won the top trophy in the eighth annual tournament of the Western Maryland Bridge Association by placing first in the open pair event during Saturday night play.

The tournament was termed a success by A. J. Feigus, president of the sponsoring organization, who said that more than 400 players participated in the various events.

All trophies were won by out-of-town players, Feigus said in pointing out that this year's tourney attracted bridge players from as far as Miami as well as the principal cities on the eastern seaboard. The tournament was concluded yesterday with a buffet luncheon following the mixed pair event, Feigus said.

An unusual development marked the play, Feigus stated, explaining that Mr. and Mrs. George W. Durgin of Mercersburg, Pa., were announced as the winners of the mixed pair event before a check of the score cards disclosed that the highest score was posted by Dorothy Atkins and James O. Lipman, Washington team.

The winners had left the scene before the discrepancy was discovered, and they have been advised of their first place rating by letter, Feigus said.

Runnersup to Dr. and Mrs. Carazola in the open pair play were Harry Sheokey and George Summers, Uniontown, Pa.; Mrs. D. L. Greene and Richard L. Barnhart, Ligonier, Pa.; Gerald Bare, Fort Belvoir, Va., and Marvin Rossi, New York City; Dorothy Atkins and James O. Lipman, Washington, and Mary (Continued on Page 16)

Demo Rally Set Tonight

Top Democratic candidates for state office in Maryland will climax a visit to Allegheny and Garrett counties today with a rally at 8 p. m. at the Eagles Home, North Mechanic Street.

The public is welcome. Refreshments will be served.

The group was at Mt. Savage this morning and at noon a luncheon was held at Hill Top Inn on U. S. Route 40 east of Grantsville at which 150 guests, including Garrett County candidates, were present. Democratic State Central Committees of both counties sponsored this affair.

The group also was to visit Brady's Hotel, Lonaconing, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, Luke, and Frostburg State Teachers College today.

Harold Ashby, Oakland, Heads Area Ski Club

The Western Maryland Ski Club elected officers yesterday at a meeting at Cabin Lodge on Deep Creek Lake.

Harold Ashby of Oakland was named president; Glenn Kline, Cumberland, vice-president; Mrs. Charity Hinebaugh, Oakland, secretary, and Miss Dolores Eirich, Cumberland, treasurer.

The club voted to affiliate with the Blue Ridge Regional Ski Council which is comprised of skiing organizations in Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia. The group also affiliated with the Eastern Amateur Ski Association.

A ski patrol and instruction for amateurs will also be provided during the coming season at Marsh Mountain slope on Deep Creek Lake.

The club officers will meet at H. Yeager of Baltimore.

Members of the club inspected the lodge which is being completed at the Marsh Mountain slope. A new lift is being installed on the 1500-foot slope.

Two Cumberland Men On Devereux Committee
A Cumberland specialist and a Baltimore surgeon, native of here, are two of the 15 Maryland doctors who have formed a Doctors-For-Devereux Committee.

They are Dr. Leslie E. Daugherty, this city, and Dr. George H. Yeager of Baltimore.

Upon completion of the reading of the statement, Mayor Keech said it does not say that other members of the council do not approve of Long's program.

Rather, Keech said, the four members feel it should be discussed as a body before it is released to the press. He said (Continued on Page 16)

Council Hits At Statements In Long Plan

Three Commissioners, Mayor Take Issue With Some Points

Four members of the Mayor and Council took issue today with some statements contained in a four-year plan presented last week by Street Commissioner John J. Long, particularly that which proposed issuance of a $500,000 bond program.

"This matter has not, as of this date, been presented at any meeting of the Mayor and Council and is not at this time under study by the Mayor and Council as a whole," the statement said. The statement was read by Mayor J. Edwin Keech who signed it along with Commissioners Lucille Roeder, G. Ray Light and Philmore Fleming.

Referring to a statement by Long that "This Mayor and Council must realize the seriousness of the situation and the necessity for a solution, or suffer the eventual consequences of indifference," the four members of council said "We must state that it is our duty to put our own house in order before we ask the citizens of Cumberland to entrust us with additional funds, when, to date, we have not even proven to our own satisfaction that all waste has been eliminated from each and every department of the city."

Hit Leadership Statement
"We take issue with the statement, 'All we need is leadership, full public understanding, and the will to act.' This administration is trying to provide you with leadership, and every program which is submitted will be given full and complete study, the results of which will be released to the press. We have the will to act, but will not act unless we are clear in our own minds that we are taking the action in the best interests of every section and all citizens of the city."

"We trust that the entire Mayor and City Council will be able to present to the citizens a long-range program for each department of the city after we have sufficient time to study all of the complex and many problems which are facing us at this time. Money is important, but we will not approve any ordinance authorizing the issuance of bonds until the citizens have been advised as to the plan of expenditure for such funds."

"The needs of all services must be studied and all approved at the same time if the Mayor and Council is to conduct the business of the city in an efficient manner."

Value For Dollar
"The Mayor and Council will insist that each department is operated in an efficient and economical manner so that the taxpayer receives value received for his dollar."

"We feel that the condition did not exist in the Street Department during the past administration, and in fairness to the present commissioner, he probably has not had sufficient time to correct the situation as of this date. When it can be proved to the Mayor and City Council that all departments under the commissioner of streets and public property are being operated in an efficient and economical manner, the Mayor and Council will then consider a request for additional funds if properly presented and shown to their satisfaction that it is in the best interests of the city."

"We feel that the issuance of bonds is the easy way to meet any crisis. We are not looking for the easy way and will insist that every avenue be explored with the idea that the city will be placed on a 'pay-as-you-go' basis."

"We feel that the adoption of any program during this administration must be studied by the entire Mayor and Council and, if approved by them, made part of the long-range planning for the city."

Inherited Obligations
"This administration has inherited many debts and obligations which it must meet and certainly, at this time, cannot favor the issuance of any bonds which will mean that the debt service of the city will be increased proportionately and undoubtedly the tax rate limit would have to be increased in order to meet the obligation incurred through the issuance of bonds. We feel that the citizens of Cumberland are not in favor of any increase in the debt service or tax rate at this time, and we trust that any member of the Mayor and City Council having any long-range plans for capital improvements or the expenditure of any substantial amount of money will have the courtesy to first discuss such matters with the entire group to see whether or not such plans are feasible and in the best interests of the city. If such a program is sound, it will certainly be made a part of the long-range planning of the city."

Upon completion of the reading of the statement, Mayor Keech said it does not say that other members of the council do not approve of Long's program.

Rather, Keech said, the four members feel it should be discussed as a body before it is released to the press. He said (Continued on Page 16)

Collegiate 'Big Guns' Get Breathing Spell

Oklahoma's Texas Loss Top Upset Of Weekend

By JOE SARGIS
United Press International

Army, Navy and Texas, the big guns on the college football scene, take breathers this week, while the teams they licked last Saturday try to regroup for a return to the front ranks.

Coach Earl (Red) Blaik's well-drilled Cadets, with Pete Dawkins and Bob Anderson carrying the colors, completely bottled up Notre Dame's offense and flashed just enough attack of their own to gain a 14-2 win over the third-ranked Irish before a capacity crowd of 60,564 at South Bend, Ind. While Eddie Erdelatz rapidly jelling Midshipmen weren't quite as impressive, they still had enough fire power to scuttle 12th-ranked Michigan, 20-14, at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Texas, though, went them one better by handing second-ranked Oklahoma, the nation's most successful team in the last five years, an embarrassing 13-14, defeat before a hometown crowd of 75,504 in the Cotton Bowl.

The wins were No. 3 for both Army and Navy and No. 4 for Texas.

Auburn Beak Kentucky While Army, Navy and Texas were enhancing their records, top-ranked Auburn and fifth-ranked Ohio State found the going a bit rough, but managed to keep their records clean. The Tigers didn't score until the final period in running their victory string to 17 games with an 8-0 decision over Kentucky, while the Buckeyes, the defending national champions, had all they could do in handling Illinois, 19-13, defeat in the nationally televised game.

With Notre Dame and Oklahoma defeated among the top five and Auburn running into trouble against lesser lights, the national rankings are sure to undergo a radical shakeup this week. And don't be too surprised if Wisconsin (3-0), perhaps the best team in the Midwest, moves into the top five along with Army, Auburn, Ohio State and Michigan State.

Badgers Crush Purdue The Badgers, unleashing a fluid attack, buried previously unscored Purdue, 31-6, and appear certain to improve on their sixth-place ranking. They play Iowa (2-0-1) next. Michigan State, seventh-ranked, regained a little of the prestige it lost in playing Michigan to a 12-12 tie by defeating eight-ranked Pittsburgh, 22-8. TCU (3-1) routed Texas Tech, 26-0; Clemson, on the fringe of the top 10, enhanced its chances with a 12-7 win over Vanderbilt; Stanford scored its first win of the season by upsetting Washington, 22-12; Washington State shutout Idaho, 8-0; the fledgling Air Force Academy buried Colorado State, 36-6; Texas A&M didn't waste the trip to Maryland by handing the Terrapins a 14-10 defeat; Georgia Tech kept rolling by beating Tennessee, 21-7; Northwestern edged above the Penn-Sheraton, Pittsburgher, Roosevelt, Sherwyn and Webster Hall, 7-3; California evened its record at 2-2 by defeating Idaho, 36-21; and Columbia won only its second game in two seasons and first under Coach Buff Donelli, 13-0, over Ivy League rival, Yale.

When Rod decides to charge he has an unusual knack of getting to the quarterback with the snap of the ball. This season he has recovered three fumbles and intercepted one pass. Against Virginia last season he halted down six passes.

Breedlove, almost always the first downfield on punts and kickoffs, is a sure tackler. He's also an outstanding blocker on offense.

Frisky Colts Show Heels In Grid Race

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press International

The frisky Baltimore Colts, who hit the quarter pole of the season with a daylight lead, may be tough to catch in the National Football League's Western Division Race.

Always regarded as good front-runners, the Colts proved they also can come from behind when they spotted Green Bay a 17-0 lead Sunday and then galloped to a 24-17 victory on Andy Nelson's 52-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass.

It was the unbeaten Colts' third straight victory and enabled them to remain one game ahead of the Chicago Bears and the Los Angeles Rams in the Western race. The Rams also staged a thrilling rally, scoring twice in the final minute to down the winless Detroit Lions, 42-28, while the Bears rolled to a 28-6 triumph over the San Francisco Forty-Niners.

Browns Whip Cards The Cleveland Browns remained unbeaten in the Eastern Division by whipping the Chicago Cardinals, 35-28; the New York Giants took over undisputed possession of second place by edging the Washington Redskins, 21-14; and the Pittsburgh Steelers walloped the Philadelphia Eagles, 24-3, for their first victory of the season.

The Colts climaxed their thrilling comeback against the Packers at Milwaukee when Nelson intercepted a pass by Bart Starr on the Baltimore 48 and went all the way behind a mountain of blockers. Johnny Unitas also had a big hand in the triumph, plunging over for the Colts' first touchdown and tossing a 54-yard scoring pass to Jim Nutscheller.

Jon Arnett's three touchdowns featured the Rams' victory at Detroit. Earl Morrall, acquired by the Lions from Pittsburgh last week, wound up as the goat when the Rams intercepted one of his passes with less than a minute remaining. Los Angeles scored in five plays, with Joe Maroon traveling the final 24 yards to break a 28-28 deadlock. Arnett added the crusher seconds later on a 17-yard gallop.

Hill Stars For Bears. The Bears whipped San Francisco behind the pass-catching of Harlon Hill and the ball-carrying of Willie Galimore and Rick Casares. Hill nabbed two touchdown passes while Galimore and Casares each gained 74 yards rushing. Galimore scored once on a 23-yard scamper.

A crowd of 65,403, the largest turnout for a Cleveland home opener in history, watched Jim Brown blast the Cardinals' line for three touchdowns. M.C. Reynolds, the Cardinals' brilliant

Terps To Get Little Rest, Carolina Next

By The Associated Press

Navy should be able to catch its breath this week after putting out everything it had to stay undefeated against Michigan by a 20-14 score.

The Middles tackle Tulane, which has lost all its four games, in the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk on Saturday.

But there'll be no rest for the weary at Maryland. After taking its third licking in four games by a 14-10 score from Texas A & M, the Terrapins move against arch-rival North Carolina.

Hopkins Surprises While the two major college football teams in Maryland are showing off away, the four smaller ones stay home Saturday. Hampden-Sydney is at Western Maryland, Haverford at Johns Hopkins, Howard at Morgan and North Carolina A & T at Maryland State.

Johns Hopkins has surprised somewhat by winning its first two games. A sophomore from Annapolis, Skipper Leet, scored both touchdowns in Saturday's 12-0 victory over Ursinus.

Western Maryland took its second straight licking, 20-6 from Randolph-Macon, and Morgan nosed out Maryland State 13-12.

Tulane, which won only two games last season, is having another miserable year and seems set up for Navy's fourth conquest. Tulane has been wrung out by Florida, Texas, Georgia Tech and Mississippi.

Navy Grows Fast Since Coach Eddie Erdelatz said his Navy outfit was young inexperienced and should improve as the season progresses, it seems to have grown up fast.

Michigan put Navy to a rigid test and it came through with flying colors by rallying in the fourth quarter to win. Navy won its first three games without its top line-man, Bob Reifsnyder, and only part time help from its promising sophomore halfback, Joe Bellino.

Maryland found itself in last year's 21-7 victory over North Carolina and Coach Tommy Mott has to hope it can do it again.

It is going to take more than Maryland has shown so far. Although North Carolina has a so-so record of two victories and two defeats, its scores show that Coach Jim Tatum has a stubbornly strong aggregation.

It lost 21-14 to North Carolina State and 26-21 to Clemson. Then it nipped Southern Cal 8-7 and South Carolina 6-0.

Mays, Ashburn Spark Victory NEW YORK (AP) — The Big Town got its first look at long-time favorite Willie Mays in more than a year Sunday and found Say-Hey little changed from a season in San Francisco.

The occasion was an exhibition game at Yankee Stadium matching Mays' National League All-Stars with an American League team managed by the Yankees' Mickey Mantle.

It was no contest, with Mays and Richie Ashburn of the Phillies combining for seven hits in a 6-2 romp. The crowd was announced as 21,129.

Mays, runnerup to Ashburn in the NL batting race this season, had a triple and three singles in five at-bats while Ashburn went 3-for-4 and scored four runs. Each stole a base while the National League's had their fun behind the combined four-hit pitching of Pittsburgh's Bob Friend, Los Angeles' Johnny Podres and Philadelphia's Dick Farrell.

Whitely Ford of the Yanks, and Billy Pierce and Dick Donovan of the White Sox pitched for Mantle's club.

Stengel Selected By UPI As 'Manager Of The Year'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Casey Stengel, who made 1958 a year of vindication for his New York Yankees, the American League and himself, was picked today as the United Press International's American League Manager of the Year.

The 68-year-old juggler of players and of words was chosen by a board of 24 baseball writers.

Stengel has accomplished great things previously in his long career but the 1958 season was one of the most satisfying of his life. It was a season that started with Stengel expected to win the American League pennant. For a while it appeared that it would be one of the easiest romps in history. But the team sagged badly in August and September and lost three of the first four games to the Braves in the World Series.

The whole baseball world said it couldn't be done but Stengel rallied his forces and pulled them through to give the Yankees their 18th world championship in 24 tries.

The board of 24 experts gave Stengel 15 votes with Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox drawing four and Harry Craft of the Kansas City Athletics getting two. Harry Lavagetto of the Washington Senators, Joe Gordon of the Cleveland Indians and Paul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles got one each.

Rams Battle Tech In Top WVIC Game

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Highly touted West Virginia Tech, seeking its first title since 1949, travels to strong Shepherd this weekend in the top game involving West Virginia Conference teams.

Glenville and Wesleyan get the ball rolling with a Thursday night scrap at Weston.

Meanwhile, in other league encounters, West Virginia State visits Bluefield State, West Liberty is at Concord, Potomac State at Davis & Elkins, and defending champion Fairmont plays Glenville at Weston Saturday night.

The only non-conference game finds John Carroll at Bethany.

Fairmont Roll Tech had its record marred with a 14-14 tie at Morehead last Saturday. Fairmont rolled over Concord 27-7. Glenville whipped Davis & Elkins 30-7. Salem capped its first win, a 19-7 win over Wesleyan, and Shepherd topped Potomac State 26-7.

Bluefield State beat Winston-Salem, N. C., 22-0. Geneva, Pa., walloped West Liberty 34-0. Allegheny, Pa., edged Bethany 13-8, and Central State of Ohio nipped West Virginia State 13-6 outside the WVIC.

Tech held a 14-0 lead over Morehead going into the final quarter but was unable to hold on. Quarterback Alby Dawson sparked both late Eagle touchdowns. Charles Gosman raced five yards for one score and quarterback Jack Johnson passed 53 yards to Norman Harlan for the other for Tech.

Five Players Score The running of Ed Helmski and Roy Meeks and the passing of Rich Newbrough enabled Fairmont to post its third straight win. The Falcons wrapped up the game with two first-period markers. Concord got its only touchdown in the second period on a short pass from Percy Brown to George Phillips.

Five Glenville players shared scoring honors in its homecoming victory over Davis & Elkins. Bob Crews started the touchdown spree in the first period when he racked over from the one. Dean Baker passed to Max Armstrong for the Senators' touchdown.

Stan Hosking scored three touchdowns to pace Geneva over West Liberty. Allegheny punched across scores in the first and second periods and then held on for its win over Bethany and a 14 yard run by Ken Waters for a touchdown provided Central State, with its triumph over West Virginia State.

Sooners Show Weakness On Pass Defense

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS (AP) — Is the glamorous winning era of Bud Wilkinson at an end? Was Texas' 15-14 upset of Oklahoma Saturday the downward start to an average place in college football for the erstwhile terrible Big Red?

No one will say, but there are plenty who conclude this wasn't the great Oklahoma that won 50 games out of 51, had the all-time record streak of 47 straight, been No. 1 in the nation twice.

This Oklahoma team had a weakness against passes, something no one could remember before.

13-Point Underdogs
It remained for a man who once played quarterback at Oklahoma under Wilkinson to exploit this weakness for his greatest victory. He was Darrell Royal, who came to Texas last year charged with the task of picking up Longhorn fortunes and specifically with beating Oklahoma, one of the things that cost Coach Ed Price, his job when he failed to do it in six years.

Royal brought to Dallas Saturday a team lacking experience, one that wasn't supposed to be nearly so good as the Longhorns of 1957, who lost to Oklahoma 21-7. The Sooners were given a 13-point bulge and that was considered conservative, although Oklahoma had shown a semblance of weakness the week before in a 6-0 victory over So-Son Oregon.

But Texas scored first, led for more than three quarters, was overtaken early in the fourth period, then stormed back to score with just three minutes left and win its first game over Oklahoma since 1951.

Longhorns Take To Air
In three previous contests this season Texas had tried only 26 passes, completed 8 and gained just 93 yards. But Saturday the Longhorns attempted 17, completed 12 for 153 yards—scored both touchdowns on passes.

Royal revealed that Texas took advantage of the Oklahoma eight-man line and got end Bob Bryant in the pocket for the scoring pass that won the game.

The Texas coach also said he employed the two-point scoring rule, although he still opposes it. "It's unfair to the coach," he said. "But I decided last week we would go for two if we scored first against Oklahoma, believing it would be a great psychological factor," Royal added.

Texas worked hard on the two-point play all week. Guard H.G. Anderson, who opened the hole for fullback Don Allen to crash through for two points after the first Texas touchdown, was the big man in carrying it out.

Marlboro Opens 12 Racing Days

MARLBORO, Md. (AP)—A 12-day racing meeting opened today at Marlboro track which set a betting record of $5,037,133 among Maryland's minor tracks last year.

The $5,000 Marlboro Nursery stake race will be run Oct. 18. Marlboro winds up Oct. 25 and Laurel starts the major racing season three days later.

Frisky Colts

The Colts tossed a pair of touchdowns passes to All-American John Crowe and another to Gene Nagler. The awesome Browns totaled 332 yards rushing and 122 yards passing.

The Steelers looked like a new club with newly-acquired Bobby Layne at the controls. They turned three Philadelphia fumbles into touchdowns and held the Eagles to 72 yards rushing. Tom Tracy, one of Layne's teammates at Detroit earlier this season, scored twice for the Steelers.

Giant Pass Wins
A 10-yard touchdown pass from Charley Conerly to Ken MacAfee early in the fourth period provided the Giants with their winning margin at Washington.

New York scored twice in the opening quarter on a six-yard run by Frank Gifford and a 41-yard pass from Don Heinrich to Bob Schnelker. However, the Redskins tied the score in the second period on a 39-yard aerial from Eddie Lebaron to Jim Podoley and Ed Sutton's end run.

The Colts run into the defending champion Lions next Sunday at Detroit while the Bears entertain the Rams, San Francisco will visit Philadelphia, Pittsburgh will at Cleveland, New York entertains the Cardinals, and Washington hosts Green Bay in other games.

First-Down Failure Key To Colt Win

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Green Bay's failure to make a critical first down was a key to the Baltimore Colts' 24-17 National Football League victory yesterday.

It was the Colts' third victory without defeat. The Packers have two losses and a tie.

Andy Nelson of the Colts broke a 17-17 tie when he stole a pass and ran it back 52 yards with 2 minutes, 12 seconds remaining.

Steve Myhra's 14-yard field goal had tied the score about two minutes earlier. The field goal followed a controversial whistle.

On third down, Baltimore quarterback John Unites was nailed on the Packers' eight. He lost the ball and a packer grabbed it. But referee Bob Austin said the whistle blew before the fumble. He said Unites had touched the ground, ending the play. However it looked from the press box as though Unites fumbled before hitting the dirt.

The first-down trouble came early in the final period when Green Bay ahead 17-14. The Packers had a fourth down on the Colts' 12 with two yards to go. Paul Hornung ran for a first down, but he gained only a yard and the Colts took over.

In the first quarter, Green Bay quarterback Bart Starr and halfback Don McIlhenny combined on a 55-yard pass play. Starr scored another TD on a one-yard plunge. Hornung kicked both conversions and booted a 19-yard field goal in the second period, making it 17-0.

Unites' one-yard sneak and Myhra's conversion made it 17-7 at the half. Unites passed to Jim Mutscheller on a touchdown play of 54 yards in the third period. Myhra's field goal made it 17-17. And Nelson's interception runback broke the tie.

Daigh Wins Grand Prix

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Beating the boss isn't usually the best way to get ahead, but race driver Chuck Daigh's victory in the $14,500 Riverside Grand Prix suits Lane Reventlow fine.

For Daigh, of Long Beach, Calif., defeated a top field of drivers in one of Reventlow's power-packed Scarabs, establishing the young heir to the Woolworth millions as a major figure in the sports car field.

A crowd of 70,000 watched Daigh outduel the favorite, Phil Hill, and go on to win easily when engine trouble forced Hill out of the race a little past the half-way mark in the 200-mile grind.

Blistering heat that reached 100 degrees plagued the fuel systems of the temperamental racing machines, forcing 18 of the 42 drivers to start to drop out.

Finishing 25 seconds behind Daigh, who averaged 88.8 miles in winning the $5,000 first prize, was Dan Gurney of Riverside, Calif., in a Ferrari. Bill Krause of Compton, Calif., drove a D-Jaguar into third spot.

Reventlow's Scarab suffered a punctured gas tank in a pile-up at one of Riverside Raceway's 11 turns. He tried to stay in the race and had an angry altercation with the officials when he was flagged off.

GLENN WRIGHT COPS WEEKEND TOURNEY

Glenn Wright shot a 97-77 to pace a field of 20 players and win the Men's Golf Association's straight handicap tournament over the weekend at the Cumberland Country Club.

Players with flags on par three holes were: Nos. 1 and 6—Clifton Van Roby, No. 10—John Wilson, No. 12—Tucker Mason.

Frank McCaughy eliminated John Mosner, 4 and 3, in a third-flight semi-final match of the men's fall tourney.

The Women's Golf Association will hold an even hole tournament tomorrow.

Howe Shines In 3-0 Win

By United Press International
Gordie Howe of Detroit had goals to a night — racking up two goals and one goal.

The pair of goals by Howe paced the Red Wings to a 3-0 victory Sunday night over the New York Rangers, who also lost the services of goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley for an indefinite period.

Worsley was carried from the ice at 1:10 of the third period when he suffered a torn ligament in his left leg after a collision with the on-rushing Howe, who was gripped by Ranger defenseman Bill Gadsby.

General Manager Muzz Patrick of the Rangers indicated he probably would bring up goalie Marcel Paille from Buffalo of the American Hockey League as a replacement for Worsley.

Tod Sloan and Danny Lewicki each scored twice to lead Chicago to a 5-2 victory over Toronto.

George Armstrong notched both goals for the Maple Leafs, who dropped their second straight game. It marked the Black Hawks' second victory and moved them atop the National Hockey League.

Gerry Toppazzini's two goals led the Boston Bruins to a 4-2 win over the Montreal Canadiens, who lost their first game in three starts. Dickie Moore and Maurice Richard each scored for Montreal.

Tapping

but the final day's total was not quite enough to equal the $4,081,330 bet last year in the Hub City.

The slight decline was blamed on the televised World Series competition. Total play for the 12 days of 1958 was $4,058,077 and Hagerstown became the first Maryland track to record a decrease since Bowie's weather-plagued meeting last winter.

Incidentally, apprentice Larry Reynolds, who scored 25 wins at Cumberland's meet, mailed down 20 at Hagerstown to set the pace there. His nearest competitors were "bug boy" Johnny Sollars and veteran Tony Russo with ten apiece.

Terp-Tar Heel Contest On TV

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — The Maryland-North Carolina game at Chapel Hill, N. C., Saturday will be the first of four Atlantic Coast Conference football games to be carried on television this year.

The Terp-Tar Heel game will be carried on a network in Maryland, the Carolinas and parts of Georgia and Tennessee.

Proceeds from television rights will be divided among the loop's eight teams. The four telecasts have been given over to a production company which may sell rights to sponsors and select stations which are to carry it.

Tebbetts Not To Interfere, Haney Is Told

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Fred Haney got assurances before he signed his 1959 contract to manage the Milwaukee Braves that he will get "no interference" from George (Birdie) Tebbetts, the team's newly-named executive vice president.

"I was assured that Tebbetts will work only in the front office and will not have anything to do with the way I run the ball team," said Haney, who agreed to a new one year contract Saturday at no increase in pay.

At the same time, it was announced that Tebbetts, a player and manager for 24 years—most recently of the Cincinnati Redlegs—will move into the Braves' front office to eventually take over the duties of President Joseph C. Cairnes.

Haney said he insisted that Tebbetts keep his opinions to himself about the way Haney runs the club on the field. It had been hinted that Haney, 60, might retire if Tebbetts were brought into the organization as his boss.

Despite reports of a rift between the two men, both denied this.

"We're friends," said Haney. "He was a very able manager when I first got to know him in the thirties and he's a great manager now," said Tebbetts from Washington, D. C., where he was speaking.

Tebbetts said he "wasn't looking for a front office job" after leaving Cincinnati, "but this was an opportunity I couldn't afford to turn down."

Aussies Win World Golf

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Australia won the World Amateur team championship of golf and the big Eisenhower Trophy today by defeating the United States by two strokes in an 18-hole playoff.

The three low scorers of the four-man Australian team combined an aggregate score of 222 to 224 for the three low U.S. players.

The playoff, like the main part of the 29-nation competition, was decided on aggregate scores for the three low men on each team.

Australia and the U.S. tied in the 72-hole competition Saturday with 318 totals.

Today Bruce Devlin shot a par 72 over the testing 6,936-yard Old Course of St. Andrews and Peter Toogood and Bob Stevens had 75.

For the United States, Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, the U.S. amateur champion, had a 73. Billy Joe Patton of Morgantown, N.C., a 75 and Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor of Pomona, Calif., a 76 for the 224 aggregate.

Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia, U.S. leader through the main part of the competition was out of contention today with a 78 and Australia's Doug Bachli, former British amateur champion, made the same score.

The season just concluded was the first Face finished with a better than 500 won-and-lost record. In 1953, Roy's first full contention today with a 78 and Australia's Doug Bachli, former British amateur champion, made the same score.

Meet Roy: Face To Hurl Here Sunday With Stars

This is the second of a series on major league personalities who will appear here Sunday with Dick Green's barnstorming baseball team against the Pen-Mar League All-Stars.

When Dick Green brings his ensemble of major league ballplayers here Sunday for a benefit game with the Pen-Mar League All-Stars, he'll have with him one of the biggest reasons for the Pirates' surprisingly strong second-place finish in the 1958 National League race — El Roy Face.

The little relief hurler, with the fortitude of a giant, was born February 20, 1928, at Stephentown, N. Y., and was drafted by the Pirates from Montreal of the International League on December 1, 1952 and joined the Pirates the following season. He has been with the Bucs since except for a 1954 stint with New Orleans.

Face is one of the smaller men in the majors, measuring only five-feet, eight-inches, but was the Pirate's most reliable and most called-upon bullpen artist during their fantastic but futile drive for the pennant. Little Roy posted a 5-2 record over the season and, better indicating his relief work, led the majors in "saves" with 26.

Possessor of a good fast ball and tremendous breaking "stuff," Face finished 10th among National League hurlers in earned-run averages with a 2.89 while appearing in 57 games. He struck out 47 batters in 84 innings.

The 55-pound right hander holds a major league record for most consecutive games pitched in a season with nine. In this nine-game period, from September 3 to 13, 1957, Roy pitched a total of 14½ innings, allowing 14 hits, three runs (all earned), two bases on balls, struck out nine and won three games while losing one. His earned run average for the nine games was 1.84.

Face's lifetime major league record, consisting of five seasons, shows 267 games in which he appeared, 658 innings pitched, 32 wins, 36 losses and 326 strikeouts.

The season just concluded was the first Face finished with a better than 500 won-and-lost record. In 1953, Roy's first full contention today with a 78 and Australia's Doug Bachli, former British amateur champion, made the same score.

Hearing Set On Bonus Wednesday At City Hall

Views of Western Maryland residents and organizations on the veterans bonus and other proposed veterans legislation will be heard Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall by the 15-member Veterans Commission.

Del. Noel Speir Cook, Frostburg, one of the six House of Delegates members on the committee, will introduce Roy Maddox, chairman and a past Maryland commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The committee, Del. Cook said, was set up to study the possibility of paying a bonus to veterans and to consider any other veterans legislation affecting money.

A regional meeting was held last Wednesday in Salisbury and the local meeting in Darisacuss, Montgomery County, October 22, and in Cheverly, Prince Georges County October 23.

Del. Cook said the committee wants to get the legislative views of all veterans organizations of Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties.

The committee, he said, is trying to determine the feasibility, scope and financing of a veterans bonus.

It wants, he said, to know how people feel about the bonus issue and other veterans legislation.

It also wants to know public opinion on the extent of a proposed veterans bonus. In general, the proposals call for payment of $10 a month for service in the United States and $15 for overseas service, with a total bonus of not over $500.

The committee also wants to know what the people favor to finance the bonus. Del. Cook said the proposals favored so far, include a tax on alcoholic beverages, extra racing days, increase in bridge tolls and a gross receipts tax on businesses.

Del. Cook said the committee wants pros and cons on the proposal so it can formulate its policy.

Cost, he said, has been estimated at $100,000,000, including $10,000,000 for administration.

He said the committee wants to come up with a reasonable bill that can be taken before the voters.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Some relatives of my husband just came back from Europe where they took 6500 feet of film and 200 colored slides. They invited all their relatives and friends over, locked the door and made us sit there and watch the whole boring thing. You couldn't even sleep through it because they took turns talking about every picture. It was past midnight when they finished they started at 7:00 p.m. and then they insisted we stay for coffee, which took another hour. These relatives are supposed to be high society. Is this your idea of a party or am I crazy?

DEAR ABBY: Some family get-togethers are like castor oil. Hard to swallow—but necessary occasionally. Grin and bear it.

DEAR ABBY: When that woman wrote to you saying her Clergyman told her to give her husband another chance after he'd beaten her up a couple of times, I don't think you had any business telling her "the clergyman didn't have to live with him," and she should move out. Sometimes all a man needs is one more chance.

JOHN S.
DEAR JOHN: The woman had been put in the hospital by her husband many times, and had already given him a hundred chances. Sometimes, "one more chance" is one too many. Please read on:

DEAR ABBY: God bless you for advising that woman whose husband beat her so many times to move out. About fifteen years ago a neighbor of ours was told by her Clergyman to give her husband another chance after he beat her so bad she was on crutches. One night, for no reason at all, this man stabbed their six-year-old baby to death with a butcher knife while he slept in his bed. When the wife struggled to save her baby, he killed her, too. He was adjudged insane and is now in a mental institution, but it cost the lives of two innocent people. I agree with you, Abby. If a man raises a hand against a woman he is not fit to live with. ROGER R.

DEAR ABBY: I spent my vacation a summer resort. I was interested in learning how to ride horseback, so I got a guide to take me out. After he took me up a mountain trail away from all human beings, he hugged me and suggested I get off my horse for a while. What should I have done, not knowing him very well?

DEAR DOUBTFUL: When you're with a two-legged wolf, you're safer on a four-legged horse.

DEAR ABBY: Ever since my best friend died 4 years ago I have been begging his widow to marry me. She says she respects me but she doesn't love me. I worship this woman and could give her and her children a fine home and all the material things she could want. She says I should find a woman who can return my love. I would be satisfied with just her respect and I am sure if she would give me a chance she would learn to love me. How can I change her mind?

DEAR STILL: You could change her mind but you can't change her heart. Her advice to you was sound. Take it.

CONFIDENTIAL to Lee Ann:
Tell your paratrooper to "go jump!"

Firemen Plan Discussion On Central Alarm

Members of the Allegany-Garrett Counties Firemen's Association will discuss a proposed central alarm system for Allegany County at a meeting October 23 in LaVale Fire Hall.

Progress on the plan was related by James Loar, LaVale, central alarm committee chairman, at a meeting of the executive committee of the association yesterday in the Mt. Savage Fire Hall.

Loar asked each company in Allegany County to send a representative to present its views on the central alarm proposal.

He said it is hoped that when the system is established, all fire alarms can be reported to the central office which can set off fire alarms in all communities by telephone or radio.

Howard County will establish a similar system on January 1, and such a plan is working satisfactorily in Prince Georges and Montgomery counties, he said.

At present, each fire company must keep someone on duty at all times to accept fire calls and turn in alarms.

James Winfield, Clarysville, said the civil defense committee has recommended that District 16, McCoolle and Ellerslie fire companies get radios which will be available by matching CD funds.

This will mean that 17 of the county's 22 companies will have modern radio communications, he said.

The next set, Winfield said, will go to Barton Fire Company, Alvin Rankin, Frostburg, muscular dystrophy chairman, passed out canisters to representatives of 20 companies present.

Present were: Spencer J. H. Brown, Sandy Spring, past president of the state association, and Marbery F. Gates, Rockville, executive board member. Both spoke briefly.

The next meeting of the executive board will be November 2 at 2 p.m. in Bowling Green, with Francis Fatkin, Clarysville, presiding.

Firemen Fight Forest Blazes On Haystack

Six acres of timber land were damaged yesterday in two separate fires on Haystack Mountain. William H. Johnson, district forester, said one of the fires burned over four acres of woodland on Haystack Mountain. It was caused, he reported, by a burning tree left Saturday night by hunters near the Celanese plant.

Another two acres of land on the mountain back of the Elda Inn was burned over, apparently caused by smoking in the woods.

LaVale Fire Company fought the main blaze from 3:26 p.m. until 5:49 p.m., when Bowling Green Volunteer Firemen, which had been standing by, moved in.

The volunteer firemen fought the stubborn flames with Indian tanks and rakes.

Boys from forestry camps at Green Ridge and Louisaconing turned out to fight the forest fires.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Tuesday, October 14, 1958

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — You may have to watch minor as well as major matters carefully now. Others may cause you irritation, but remain calm and above pettiness. Let your motto be: Give and take.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — You have more favorable configurations than some today but, by the same token, do not cross others' paths in a careless manner. Get a brisk start with your schedule, and maintain a steady, progressive pace.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — A better day than you may think at first, there should be new opportunities available; go after your share, and with strong hope.

JUNE 22 to JULY 21 (Cancer) — You have an excellent chance to capitalize on your innate personality, wit, charm, finesse and artistry now. Exploit these traits, put forth your best efforts and you will gain.

JULY 22 to AUGUST 21 (Leo) — Be sure you don't fall into ruts or make errors through your own carelessness. You can make or break this day — "little things" count.

AUGUST 22 to SEPTEMBER 21 (Virgo) — Don't sidestep details because they are tedious. Remember that you are often the key to success in big projects. Gains are possible through dexterity, mental alertness.

SEPTEMBER 22 to OCTOBER 21 (Libra) — Your Venus now encourages your best endeavors, and you can advance in a number of ways. Seek more enlightenment; organize your work well, and assist others where possible.

OCTOBER 22 to NOVEMBER 21 (Scorpio) — Make the most of all opportunities, but be realistic. Do not overreach yourself. A splendid day for mental work, creativity, all interests requiring judgment, alertness.

NOVEMBER 22 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Encouraging influences for making clever plans, promotion, advertising, most business endeavors. Be tactful, however. Your innate frankness may be misconstrued as bluntness.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 21 (Capricorn) — Sound, practical matters are favored. A time for achievement and personal gain. Manage your schedule carefully to gain best results. And do channel your energies into worthwhile directions.

JANUARY 22 to FEBRUARY 21 (Aquarius) — Stimulating aspects should give you added impetus, ambition now. However, the position of Uranus warns against excess, emotionalism. Base decisions only on logic, cold analysis.

FEBRUARY 22 to MARCH 21 (Pisces) — This can be a most productive, progressive day if you give it the thought and attention you should. Don't hesitate to try intricate, skilled work, tasks. Day invites a real show of your talents.

YOU BORN TODAY are innately clever at handling difficult situations and people; are suited to managing large institutions. You are sympathetic, understanding, have good judgment and balance. Librarians make excellent mechanics, builders, engineers, carpenters; are also efficient as farmers, gardeners and handlers of live stock. You are artistic, too. Many delightful actors, actresses and painters are among the Librarians; and judges, too. You are indeed blessed with fine attributes; cultivate and use them well. Birthdate: Dwight D. Eisenhower, Ffr. U. S. A.; Wm. Penn, founder of Pennsylvania. (King Features, Inc.)

Jacoby On Bridge

That Fist-Full Stays The Same

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

One of the hardest things to learn in bridge is that no matter how the bidding goes you still hold the same 13 cards you have been dealt.

North knew that West was trying to shut him out with his three-trump bid. He also should have realized that his own hand warranted no action at all, but North was not going to be shut out. He cried, "Double!"

East passed to see what would happen and it was up to South. South also knew that West was trying to shut him out and South was going to show West. He leaped to four spades.

East looked over his 13 cards carefully to see that there had been no misdeal and doubled.

West opened his singleton club and East's nine fell to South's jack. South led a trump which East won. East played ace and another heart which South trumped. South next led another spade.

This second trump leap turned out to be a serious mistake. It gave East control of the hand. He won the trick and led back the nine of trumps. South took his ten and two club tricks but that was as far as he could go. East ruffed the fifth club, drew South's last trump and led a heart to his partner.

South wound up down five tricks for a 1,400-point loss.

Council Hits

council did not want anything released "until we know about it." Commissioner Light said there was no doubt in any one's mind that a lot of work is necessary under the Street Department and all one had to do was ride over the streets to prove the point.

However, he said his objection was that in reading accounts of Long's program it was indicated if the bond issue did not pass it was the result of action by the Mayor and Council.

"Shoved Into Lap" — Light said he did not like "this shoving it into our lap" and added that "each of us has a department and we're trying to do the best we can."

Light also took exception to the statement concerning "leadership" and pointed out that members of council are working many extra hours to give people a good government.

He said he didn't want something "shoved in my lap" that he could do nothing about.

Mrs. Roeder said city revenues and bond issues come out of the same pocket and added consideration must be given to all departments so that council can come up with a proposal to present to the people. She pointed out that council is in the process of long-range planning, working on it every day, in fact, so that when the time comes, council can tell the people "This is what we need and why we need it."

Long replied briefly. He asked for a copy of the statement and said he feels his program is a good one. Recommendations are good, he said, adding that he believed council would find them so "in the copies I gave you before it went to the press."

Long said members of council voted him into the street commissioner job and he was going to do the best job he could. He said he felt the people should know his department's problems and he had exercised his just right in using freedom of the press to let them know.

Long added that the department "is pretty well along" to being organized and said a report on recreation is upcoming and conferences set on the sewage treatment plant. He continued "Mine is a vast department involving millions of dollars. It's a big job."

Later in the meeting during a discussion on the Wempe Drive sewer, Long said he "regretted I received a spanking for proposing a plan and letting the people know."

Mayor Keech replied that it was not a "spanking" but where money is involved, the Mayor and Council should know about it. He said circumstances such as this "puts us on the spot."

press upon each child the grave importance of getting his body into good physical condition and keeping it there.

Since there is not time in the school day to meet the physical needs of children, parents and teachers must help them to determine their weaknesses, show them ways of building up the weakened parts, and encourage him constantly to spend some after-school time daily in strenuous physical exercises.

A county-wide physical fitness program will be instituted in the near future and will be another Board of Education pioneering project.
